The Wellsboro Gazette.

VOL. XXXIII. WELLSBORO, TIOGA COUNTY, PA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1907. NO. 47.

L. A. GARDNER

A Leading Business Man and Well-Known Citizen of Wellsboro Passes Away.

SKETCH OF CAREER

Had Large Business Interests Which He Had Successfully Conducted for Many Years.

[illegible] of L. A. Gardner [illegible] Saturday morning at 3 [illegible] deep regret among the citizens of Wellsboro, where he had resided for over 40 years. Mr. Gardner had not enjoyed the best of health for several months. While at [illegible] last January he suffered from a stroke of apoplexy, but recovered sufficiently to be able to return home in a few days. On June 9th he sustained a second stroke, but, notwithstanding, later he showed marked signs of improvement and only a few days before his death he was on the streets [illegible] with his [illegible]

Levi A. Gardner was born in Unadilla, Otsego county, N. Y., March [illegible] 1831, and therefore was in the 77th year of his age at the [illegible] death. He grew to manhood [illegible] native State and came to Wellsboro in 1866, where [illegible] grocery business which he successfully conducted for many years.

THE LATE L. A. GARDNER.

For the past thirty years or more Mr. Gardner had been engaged in the insurance business and was one of the best known insurance men in Northern Pennsylvania. He was [illegible] of the Wellsboro Building and Loan Association until its charter [illegible] and was associated with other private enterprises. He was a trustee of the Methodist church, of which he had been a member [illegible] lic spirited man and was an earnest supporter of the business interests and enterprises of the town in which he lived. He was very pleasant and affable, courteous in his ways and manners, and thoroughly enjoyed a good story or in telling one himself. As a business man and citizen Mr. Gardner will be greatly missed in Wellsboro circles.

Besides his widow the deceased is survived by one son, J. H. Gardner, and one daughter, Mrs. H. J. Landrus, both of Wellsboro.

The funeral was held at the house on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. W. H. Reess, D. D., conducting the services. Rev. Joseph Dennis, of Corning, a former pastor of the M. E. church, preached the sermon as a mark of respect to the deceased the [illegible]

The pallbearers were: Walter Sherwood, George W. Williams, W. D. [illegible] and George H. Derby.

BRIEFS FROM BALSAM.

Grange Hall Improved—Personals

BALSAM, July 31.—Basil Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilcox, of Knapp, had the misfortune last Thurs- [illegible] on his left hand by having them drawn into a pulley. Dr. Gentry, of Stony Fork, dressed the injured hand.

Lincoln Monroe and family, of Brookland, Potter county, are visiting at the home of Henry Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. George James, of Scranton, called on relatives in this place last week.

Ladies of the Middle Ridge Grange are greatly improving the interior of the hall with new paper.

Misses Emma and Bertha Yandes, of Ithaca, N. Y., visited friends here last week.

Burt Francis and family, of Jersey Shore, spent last week with [illegible] in this place.

J. T. Benauer, who has been in poor health for some time, is reported no better.

[illegible] of Ke[illegible] is [illegible]

JACKSON AND LAWRENCE.

Missionary From Japan Home on Vacation—An Interesting Lecturer—Personals.

LAWRENCEVILLE, July 31.—Last Sunday evening Miss Alice True, a missionary to Japan, home on leave, [illegible] at the East Lawrence [illegible] Miss True is the embodiment of "winsome womanhood," and if she thrills and [illegible] her life work lies, as she does [illegible] people who listen to her lectures, then must her influence [illegible]

An ice cream social at the home of Willis Rees, last Wednesday [illegible] to the benefit of Tioga Junction [illegible] Church, [illegible] nearly [illegible] the people about her [illegible]

Mr. [illegible] the Misses Toboy, are spending a month at a summer resort on Beaver Hill, N. Y.

Mrs. Ed [illegible] serious illness [illegible] recovery is wished by [illegible] friends.

Rev. John Blood, of Lewisburg, will preach at the East Lawrence [illegible] tian Church next Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Hurd, of Youngstown, N. Y., have been visiting friends at East Lawrence. Rev. Hurd was at one time pastor of East Lawrence Christian Church and is gladly welcomed [illegible] two Sabbaths while here.

MOWING MACHINE ACCIDENT.

A Cowanesque Man Has Both Legs Badly Cut

[illegible] Hafner of [illegible] way, who lives about a mile north of this place, on the Purple Brook road, [illegible] with a serious accident last Friday. While mowing grass on the farm of Chas. Lovelace he stopped his [illegible] of the swath bar to adjust [illegible] when the horses started up and [illegible] heels, cutting both legs quite badly, so he will be laid up for some time. Dr. Secor, of Westfield, was called [illegible] dressed the wounds and at last reports he was doing as well as could be expected.

Harland Kimball, of Corning, who has been spending a fortnight with his uncle, Llewellyn Davis, and family, returned [illegible]

Mrs. Richard Pattison went to Corning last Saturday to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Kimball.

The farmers here are quite busy these days harvesting their hay crop, which is very fine quality.

A large [illegible] and vicinity attended the [illegible] at Galeton [illegible] Friday.

A little daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bates one day last week.

[illegible] will be [illegible] next Sunday as the Rev. [illegible] G. Macklin will be on his vacation.

Seeks Damage Under New Law.

T. Edward Schultz, of Corning, formerly of Antrim, has, through his attorneys, been the first to sue a railroad company for personal damages under a law of 1906, which holds a [illegible] for the negligence of all its co-employes having authority to direct or control [illegible] parties who seek damages.

Schultz was formerly a brakeman on the Pennsylvania division of the New York Central, and he has brought action against the company to recover $10,000 damages. He alleges in his complaint that in February last while in the Corning yards he was ordered [illegible] at a fast [illegible] and turn a switch. [illegible] getting off the caboose as directed he [illegible]

He was taken to the Corning hospital, where it was found that his head [illegible] to his head were so great that he became violently insane and was removed to the Willard Asylum, where he released as partially cured, but he alleges that "his head still causes him great pain and suffering and that he is dizzy and his mind is more or less [illegible]

Married in Corning.

Dr. John H. Turner, veterinary surgeon, and Miss Agnes Benjamin, both of Wellsboro, were married last Saturday at noon in the parlors of the Dickinson House at Corning. Rev. Joseph Dennis officiated, the ceremony being witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. W. Q. Benjamin, parents of the bride.

The young couple left on the afternoon train for a wedding trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. They will reside in Wellsboro. The bride graduated as a trained nurse from a Buffalo hospital and the groom is well-known in this section as a veterinary surgeon. We extend hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Turner.

—J[illegible] C. M[illegible], of W[illegible]field, [illegible] Ely, Nev., of [illegible]

LITTLE MARSH MATTERS.

Orange Conley, An Old Soldier, Passes Away—Personal and Other [illegible]

LITTLE MARSH, July 31.—George [illegible] and Charles Reynolds and [illegible] attended the "Mothers Fam- [illegible] reunion in Eldridge Park at Elmira last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roe and little daughter, of Bellingham, Washington, spent a few days here last week.

Clinton Wass, of Jamestown, N. Y., called on his brother here one day last week.

Miss Mary Wass, of Faulkner district, spent a few days last week at Addison with Mrs. T. E. Roberts and family.

Events [illegible] were postponed last week by the announcement of the death of Uncle [illegible] Monroey, of Farmington.

Mrs. Sylvia Brewer is in a very precarious condition and slight hopes are entertained for her recovery.

Miss Della Reynolds is visiting relatives in Elmira.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Love spent Saturday and Sunday in Wellsboro with friends.

Two dogs of this place were filled with porcupine quills the other night, and as a result one of them had to be shot.

Orange Conley, an old well-known resident of this place, [illegible] on Friday morning [illegible] was 77 years of age and was a veteran of the Civil War.

Mr. Conley came here from Lodi, N. Y., to this township when a young man. He was sturdy, honest and upright, possessed of a good-natured [illegible] as a citizen and neighbor. Besides his wife he leaves four adult children.

IN MEMORIAM.

[illegible] A. Hughes, of Tioga.

TIOGA, July 31.—George A. Hughes, whose death was briefly announced in the last issue of the GAZETTE, was the oldest son of Frederick Hughes, and was born in Tioga township, June 28, 1853. He was reared on the homestead farm on Button Hill and remained with his parents until his twenty-second year. In 1887 he purchased the farm where he died.

Mr. Hughes was married October 7, 1881, to Miss Ruby Smith, of Jackson township, and by this union were born [illegible] sons and one daughter, as follows: George, Jr., aged 16; Thomas Gerald, 14; Alfred Garrett, 12; Abbie Bessie, 9; Benjamin Smith, 7; Walter Graves, 4; Herbert Leslie, seven months, all [illegible] and a source of great comfort to the heartbroken widow.

Deceased is also survived by six brothers, [illegible] Charles, [illegible] John and William K. Hughes, all of Tioga township, and [illegible] J. Hughes, of Denver, Colorado. Also two sisters, Mrs. Meaker, of Tioga township, and Mrs. [illegible] of Mansfield.

Mr. Hughes was repeatedly elected to offices of trust and responsibility [illegible] though a Democrat in a strong Republican district, and was one of the most substantial and highly esteemed citizens of the township, as was attested at the funeral, the procession to Evergreen cemetery being more than half a mile in length.

HANGED AS HIS BROTHER [illegible]

[illegible] Member of a Bradford County [illegible] to Die on the Scaffold.

Charles Johnson, convicted of the murder of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Bigler Johnson, and her niece, Anna Benjamin, nearly three years ago, was hanged in the jail at [illegible] last Thursday. The drop fell at 10:04 [illegible] morning, [illegible] minutes after the [illegible] was hanged for a similar crime two years ago last Thursday.

To complicity in the murder of his brother's wife and niece a short dis- [illegible] 1904. Bigler Johnson, Charles' brother, was separated from his wife and was compelled to pay her $6 a month for support. In order to save the $6 [illegible] that Bigler and Charles killed her and the niece, who was living with her, [illegible] house to conceal the crime.

[illegible] and younger brother were arrested, charged with the crime. Bigler confessed and implicated all the others. The mother, sister and younger brother were acquitted, but Charles was victed.

New Signal Device on Central.

A new signal device for the warning of engineers is shortly to be tried on the Pennsylvania division of the New York Central. The new signal consists of two incandescent lights arranged on the right hand side of the engineer's cab. They are operated by electricity from the signal towers. When the engine passes a certain point the cab lights show either [illegible] or danger signals as the operator sees fit. Being in the storm, fogs, etc., do not interfere with the vision of the lights [illegible] they will be a great [illegible]

BIGGEST EVER

Five County Volunteer Firemen Have a Memorable Time at Galeton.

WELLSBORO IN 1908

Bache Hose as Usual Captures Every Prize in Sight—Band Wins the First Prize.

The twelfth annual convention and [illegible] of the Five County Volunteer Firemen's Association held at Galeton [illegible] was [illegible] the best attended and most [illegible] gatherings of the kind in the history of the Association. Galeton did itself proud and the glad hand was extended to the [illegible] and visitors generally by the citizens of that place.

The business meeting of the Association was held in Masonic Hall on Thursday afternoon, and nearly every fire organization in the Association was represented. The address of welcome was delivered by the Burgess, Dr. Barton Brown, who extended to the visiting firemen the freedom of the town.

The Association at present is made up of the five counties of Tioga, Potter, Bradford, Susquehanna and Wyoming. Owing to the distance separating the eastern and western counties, and the reluctance of [illegible] railroad excursion rates to induce attending the conventions, Wyoming and Susquehanna have seldom been well represented at the yearly meetings. As a consequence the question of admitting into the Association the counties of Allegany and Steuben, in New York, making a closer and more compact association, was referred to the executive committee and a special committee of five appointed by the president of the Association.

The Association officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, S. H. Holland, of Blossburg; Vice-President, R. J. Davis, of Galeton; Second Vice-President, P. E. Decker, of Athens; Treasurer, C. P. Wells, of Wellsboro.

There was a noticeable lack of rivalry for the convention next year. Finally on motion Wellsboro was selected as the place of meeting in 1908.

After the business session the delegates and guests were taken in automobiles to the ball grounds, where they witnessed a good game between Galeton and Addison. Score, 3 to 1 in favor of Addison.

In the evening at 9:30 o'clock the delegates, officers of the Association and newspaper men banqueted at the Hotel Imperial. Seventy covers were laid and the service was excellent. The menus were unique and were highly [illegible] made of Potter county wood and the [illegible] work of a pyrographic artist. On the back of each was a Potter county woods scene showing [illegible] loader in operation.

M. T. Stokes, editor of the Coudersport Enterprise, presided as toastmaster. The following were called [illegible] Williams and W. B. Smith, of [illegible]; C. A. Innes, of [illegible]; E. Baldwin, of Austin; F. [illegible] staff correspondent of the North American; S. P. Henderson, Superintendent B. & S. railroad; Rev. P. H. Hershey, of Galeton; Editors J. J. Mundy and M. J. Concord, of Coudersport; C. A. Ball, of Wellsville; H. T. Albee and M. J. Handwerk, of Galeton.

Thursday, parade day, was the [illegible] and the visiting firemen were [illegible] with flags [illegible] residence in the town. Never before was Galeton so profusely and gaily decorated, and the celebration generally was the greatest ever in the history of the lively lumber town. The [illegible] were thronged with people, [illegible] at from 10,000 to 12,000.

Owing to the late arrival of the excursion trains it was noon before the parade started. The parade was in three divisions. Following Chief Marshal Henry T. Albee, of Galeton, were the visiting chiefs and assistants: M. J. Potter, of Coudersport; L. G. Slocum, of Coudersport; Stephen Herrington, of Wellsboro; L. W. Fenton, of Elkland, and E. W. Richardson, of Belmont.

Twenty companies from various towns in this section of Pennsylvania and in New York State took part in the parade, and a dozen bands and drum corps furnished music for the marchers. There were more than [illegible] men in line, and the procession occupied more than three-quarters of an hour in passing a given point. Crowds lined the sidewalks throughout the long line of march and vigorously applauded the firemen.

[illegible] reporter of the Corning Leader says: "Of all the boys that came down the line there were none who [illegible] Wellsboro firemen. They brought the Wellsboro Military [illegible] with them and the outfit made [illegible] kind of an impression on the village.

"No delegation added more to the day than that of Wellsboro. They after an illness of several months. gave the parade a semblance of what it should have been, were [illegible] in most of the races and their [illegible] was not backward with its music."

The North American says: "[illegible] bly the Wellsboro band, with thirty-five pieces, under the leadership of Frank Deahs, received more applause than any other musical organization in line. They were led by the [illegible] hose companies of Wellsboro, Bache and Alert companies. The [illegible] der the lead of Floyd Emberger, and [illegible] were [illegible] uniformed in [illegible] green suits, with black facings."

The athletic events in the afternoon were somewhat of a disappointment to the large crowd. There were three races, the hose race, the hub and hub race and the hook and ladder race. In all these events the Bache Hose Company, of Wellsboro, which has won the races on the last four years, was winner by default, no other company being reckless enough to contest the events. They were declared winner of the [illegible]

The Pattison Hose Company, of Elkland, was the only company to enter the prize drill, being awarded first prize of $40. The best appearing company [illegible] the association, was the Emeralds, of Wellsville. [illegible] the best appearing company belonging to the association.

The Wellsboro Military Band was the only contestant for the band concert prize, and secured first money, $40. In the evening the band gave a concert on the lawn of the Edgcomb Hotel before a crowd which packed [illegible] half a block.

The executive committee, which had charge of the arrangements for the convention, is deserving of much [illegible] for the great success of the affair. The committee was composed of the following: H. T. Albee, Chairman; Dudley Humphrey, Treasurer; M. J. Handwerk, Secretary; L. T. Hammersley, Herman Schwarzenbach, [illegible] and T. J. Near. One of the hardest [illegible] for the complete success of the event was Secretary Handwerk, who is also Secretary of the Schwarzenbach Brewing Company.

On Friday afternoon the Antrim ball team defeated Galeton in a [illegible] game by a score of 9 to 5.

DIVORCED, CAN'T WED.

Troy Woman Secures An Unusual Decree of Separation From a Tioga County Farmer.

[illegible] been made public," says the Tioga Advertiser Reporter. "Virginia [illegible] of Troy, has been granted a divorce from bed and board of Jehial Richmond, of Tioga county, and has been awarded alimony in the amount of $200 per year, payable in $50 installments [illegible] on Oct. 30, 1905. He must pay [illegible] and the cost of the proceedings.

"The Richmond case is a strange one. Mrs. Richmond was a widow with one child living in Troy. Mr. Richmond [illegible] on a large farm in Tioga county, and is well to do. On Oct. 27, 1905, they were united in marriage in Elmira. The day following the [illegible] Mrs. Richmond went to her home in Troy to [illegible] her residence on Richmond [illegible] went to the farm to make ready for [illegible] promising to go to Troy [illegible]

Here their dream of love ended. Richmond, according to the allegations of his wife, never came back, but pursued the even tenor of way on the farm. She [illegible] dence in Troy.

"Now, nearly two years later, she [illegible] her from his bed and board, and also [illegible] her alimony. Neither can ever [illegible] again, as they are only legally separated.

[illegible] tell not of a similar case."

Thirty Thousand Dollars for Milk.

The June payroll for Helvetia milk amounted to $30,000. That means $30,000 in cash to farmers of this community for milk and almost $10,000 more for the help payroll at the factory. A little hard on the community wallet, that, stuffing $40,000 every month into it.—Delta, Ohio, Atlas.

The above will be of special interest to the farmers of this section, owing to the fact that the big plant of Helvetia Milk Condensing Company, which is being erected in Wellsboro at an expense of $250,000, will be prepared to receive a limited quantity of milk next Monday. The work on the buildings, which are only partially completed, is being rushed rapidly. When in full operation the big factory will have a capacity of [illegible] of [illegible]

DEATH OF DANIEL MOUREY.

Oldest and Best Known Resident Called to His Final Home.

FARMINGTON, July 31.—Daniel Mourey died last week Tuesday evening after an illness of several months. He was born in Danville, Mountour county, Pa., April 19, 1813, and therefore was in the 95th year of his age.

Mr. Mourey came to Farmington with his parents when he was 16 years of age. In 1835 he was united in marriage to Martha Eliza House and settled on the farm in this township, then a dense wilderness, where he spent the remainder of his life. Four children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Mourey, two of whom survive: Ira H. Mourey, who has [illegible] old homestead and faithfully cared for his [illegible] and Mrs. Nancy Cloos, of Little Marsh. He is also survived by one brother, [illegible] rey, of Nelson and three sisters, Mrs. Polly Russell, of Farmington; Mrs. Ellie Manley, of Albany, N. Y., and Mrs. Eliza Dailey, of Ireland, all of whom are past 75 years. Fourteen grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren also survive him.

THE LATE DANIEL MOUREY.

Mr. Mourey, or "Uncle Daniel," as he was familiarly known, always enjoyed excellent health until February [illegible] when he suffered an attack of [illegible] which weakened his constitution. Since that time he had been gradually failing until the end came last Tuesday night. He retained all his mental faculties up to the last moment and assured his friends and relatives that he was ready to meet his Maker, and wanted to go. During his prolonged illness and suffering he was never heard to murmur or complain, but was always [illegible] and perfectly resigned to the final call.

In politics Mr. Mourey was a life-long Democrat and was always true to the principles of his party. He was a man of sterling qualities and was [illegible] to with respect by all who knew him, and he had a wide acquaintance in this section of the county. [illegible] by his friends and neighbors [illegible] a word of advice or counsel. He was kind and generous and never refused to aid or assist the needy or deserving. Uncle Daniel Mourey was truly a good man.

Funeral services were held at the house on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock [illegible] and neighbors was evidence of the esteem and respect in which the deceased was held. The services were conducted by Mrs. Alice Snyder, assisted by Rev. Charles Weeks, of Osceola. Interment in the Mourey cemetery.

Teachers Engaged for Asaph Schools.

ASAPH, July 31.—The School Directors met at Antonia on Saturday afternoon and elected teachers for the coming year. Misses Jessie Ackley and Marie B. Martin, both of Wellsboro, were engaged to teach the [illegible]

Mrs. Elmer Deremer, of West Virginia, is the guest of Mrs. Samuel [illegible]

The ball game between the Wellsboro and Asaph teams resulted in a victory for Wellsboro by a score of [illegible] to 8. A return game will be played [illegible]

John Presit and family have moved to their farm until after haying [illegible]

Irvin Horton is erecting a nice large [illegible]

The trout season closes to-day. Preparations are now being made by several of our fishermen to spend next week on Pine creek fishing for bass.

To Editor Conevery, of Wellsboro, belongs the prize for telling the biggest strawberry story of the season. In his paper last week he stated that a friend had given him a basket full of [illegible] ries measured eight inches in circumference. The writer's hat is off to [illegible] Brother Conevery. Without further controversy of your right to the title, please accept the championship medal.—Potter Democrat.

The condensed milk factory at Coudersport, which was destroyed by [illegible]

BETTER ROADS

Nearly $5,000,000 Will Be Available Next June for Good Roads in This State.

COUNTY'S SHARE

Total Apportionment Amounts to Nearly $115,000—Will Wellsboro Get Its Share?

According to the figures compiled [illegible] State Highway Department the amount available for good roads in this State up to June, 1908, [illegible] the credit of the counties on May 1, 1907, was $[illegible]. A number of counties [illegible] all which they were entitled, and the money reverted to the treasury for [illegible] to counties that had applied for more than was alloted to them, amounting to $32,764.28. Under the apportionment to June, 1907, the counties were entitled to $1,850,000 and the total amount available for good roads now in the treasury up to June, 1908, is $4,930,000.

Highway Department the amount remaining to the credit of Tioga county up to May 1st, 1907, was $75,650.32. The total apportionment available to June, 1908, including redistribution of 1907, is $114,994.38.

In the face of the above [illegible] sum, apportioned by the State for better roads in this county and available [illegible] June, we have heard several reports to the effect that the road improvement in Wellsboro, on Main street and West avenue, would not be undertaken next year for the reason that there would not be sufficient funds available. If there is any truth in these rumors it is about time that our business men and citizens take decisive action in the matter and determine whether or not Wellsboro is to be buncoed out of its share of the State appropriation for road work next year. Get busy!

[illegible] dispatch says that there have been more applications from eastern and western counties than from counties in the center of [illegible] of the latter evidently not availing themselves of the opportunity to get a slice of the State's funds. They are, however, gradually awakening to the fact that there are millions available and are being prodded by the local newspapers, which have evinced much interest in the matter of good roads.

MUST HAVE APPENDIX OUT.

That is the New Rule of Pittsburg Ladies for Admission to Society.

[illegible] have had the removal of the vermiform appendix. They don't wait for appendicitis, but go [illegible] cial dictum that it is no longer good form to go out into society unless able to assert that the vermiform appendix is no longer part and parcel of one's person. The Press of that [illegible] society women have gone on the operating table in pursuance of the fad, [illegible]

"Time hangs heavy upon the hands of these women. Tiring of the social whirl and with little else to occupy their empty lives, they brood over imaginary ills and become hypochondriacs. It is their minds that [illegible] the physicians say, but the women declare otherwise. They discover symptoms of strange and dangerous [illegible] come to fancy that an operation is needed to restore them to health.

[illegible] possesses no terror for them. They contemplate them with a sort of fearful pleasure, delight in talking of their coming ordeal and add a dreadful zest to their jaded lives by thinking of the [illegible] danger, in fact, become [illegible] on the subject. Appendicitis and the vermiform appendix so strange an organ that it is not as hard [illegible] sort mentioned to gain the impression that they are suffering [illegible] what the symptoms of the trouble are, have no trouble in finding that they are troubled in this very way, and frequently, against the advice of their physicians, insist on going under the [illegible]

Hagenbeck Circus in a Wreck.

The first section of the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows, which exhibited in Wellsboro a few weeks ago, met with an accident on the Marquette railroad [illegible] week. The elephant car was top-heavy [illegible] as it rounded a curve toppled over and the next six cars piled up over it. Two camels and four valuable horses were killed and many horses [illegible] elephant sank to the waste, but was [illegible]

THE SPICKERTY

By T. H. LANCASTER

(Copyright, [illegible])

[illegible] unfeigned amazement in young Jack[illegible] "Well, sir, there is one thing it can't buy, and that is Porto Rican labor, when the Porto Rican does not feel inclined to labor. It isn't the wage. Raising the wage only makes matters worse. As soon as he gets enough to stave off starvation he quits work. If it takes him three days to make a dollar that he needs, he will work three days, but if he can make a dollar in one day—"

The owner of sugar plantations drummed moodily on the desk. He had put half a million into the Hacienda of Santa Maria and another half a million into improvements, and now found himself confronted with the hopeless problem of spickerty labor. From Welburn Jackson, the most enterprising of his young civil engineers, he had hoped to get a practical suggestion.

"See here, Mr. Jackson, you just take hold of this labor problem and solve it. Find out what will make the Porto Rican work and keep him working."

"Very well, sir. When do I begin?"

"Now! I'll put Callons on your drainage job. Take your own way—get out among these people—learn their ungodly gibberish. Bring them in and keep them in until this crop is cut, and I'll double your salary."

Jackson wanted money. Wanted it in a hurry. He was an ambitious man. At present he was on a salary of a hundred a month, with a chance for slow promotion.

Jackson departed and began to walk fast as the possibilities he had glimpsed in the office began to take tangible shape. His attention was diverted by the action of a man coming toward him, who suddenly bared his head and made the sign of the cross. Jackson looked around for a church, but there was no church. Down the middle of the village street came some men bearing between them a hammock slung from poles. Behind the men straggled a meager procession. All who met it bared the head and made the sign of the cross.

"Some sort of religious procession, I guess. Now that's the kind of thing I've got to get at."

Some time later at the official ball Jackson stood before a beautiful woman.

"Will the gracious senora grant me the honor of this dance?"

"You must ask my husband," she told him.

Jackson sought the husband and his plea was haughtily granted. They danced, and she danced divinely. The music and the motion made his blood surge. After a time he saw his hostess once more unclaimed. This time she did not send him to her husband. They were barely on the floor before her husband came to them. In curt Spanish the wife was ordered to her room and Jackson was left standing thunderstruck. A merry laugh, all the merrier for being discreetly subdued, brought him around upon Senorita Eloise Arden, one of the few girls to whom he had been introduced.

"Is that one of the customs of this lovely land of yours?" he demanded. "May not a man dance with another man's wife?"

"Not unless the husband first grants permission," she murmured.

"Ah! But you see I know so little. Now to-day I met a procession in the street. All who met it bared their heads and crossed themselves, but I—I did not know what it meant."

"Was it not a funeral, Senor?"

"A funeral? No, there was no coffin."

"The very poor, Senor, bear their dead to the vaults in hammocks. When they can afford it they rent a coffin for the funeral procession."

Jackson gasped. A coffin. Here was at least one thing that the spickerty must pay tribute to.

When an escort claimed the senorita Jackson lay back in the softly lighted corner and gave free rein to his financier faculty. A coffin, decent burial for their dead, coffins and candles that would appeal to the priests. Wouldn't this win the spickerty? Jackson sat up all night with his scheme.

He sought a priest.

"Yes, my son, the sad story you have been told is only too true. There are cases when they can give their dead neither coffins nor vaults save for a short time. Often the body has to be removed because the lease on the vault is not renewed."

"Removed! What's done with them?"

"They put quicklime on them when they are removed. Would you like to see the place?"

The priest mounted his donkey. Jackson strode at his side. Could such a thing really be? Human bodies thrown to the vultures. But they use quicklime and—"I am a Roman citizen."

"If you will climb up and look over that wall, my son—" the father checked his donkey and sat pointing toward a walled in enclosure. Jackson went slowly forward, found foot-hold and looked down.

"Well, sir! Have you hit upon a solution already?" Mr. Blackwell spoke with his usual businesslike alertness, but his eyes seered curious like an automaton. "Yes, sir; I find that the spickerty's greatest need is a coffin. If your company can see its way to guarantee a coffin to all who die in its employ—"

"See here, young man!"

"I am not jesting, Mr. Blackwell. They don't need clothes; grub grows on the bushes; they [illegible] but a coffin." Jackson's face kindled for an instant with the light of genius—"oh! the idea is all right. By guaranteeing decent burial to their dead I could have worked up a good thing out here in time. I could have bound these spickerties to me so absolutely—and the priest, too—a lift of my finger would have laid off your whole force."

Blackwell was looking at him with darkening eyes. He tried to speak lightly. "And may I ask why you failed to seize such a golden opportunity?"

"I'm going back to the states."

"Going back?"

"Yes, sir."

"May I inquire why you go? I am willing to make it well worth your while—"

Jackson shook his head. "I am going home to try to collect from our multimillionaire 30 pieces of silver," he said.

"Welburn, are you sure you are sober?"

Jackson had reached the door. "Try the coffin idea," he answered, mechanically. "Try the coffin idea. It will work all right." And as he went out Blackwell thought he heard him mutter again, "Thirty pieces of silver."

Welburn Jackson has not yet returned from the States with the wherewithal to buy a potter's field. Somewhere under the wings of the eagle he still starts from grisly dreams of human bones rotting unburied in the sun; but Mr. Blackwell has profited by the idea he so unnaturally fell heir to. On one great Hacienda spickerties work steadily for the company that will bury them in coffins when they come to die.

Rose in the Drama of Human Life.

There is no other flower so completely woven into the history of the human race as the rose. In truth, it is well-nigh impossible even to imagine a time when there were no roses, for the real origin of the rose, like that of the wheat of lusty strength, lies beyond the mists which veil the dawn of the Aryan race. As the rose is a factor in human history, so has it been given speech significant in the recorded flower language. The musk-rose whispers, "Come to me at evening," and means "capricious love." The maiden's blush rose, well hid in green sepals, "If you love me, you will find it out." The mossrosebud murmurs, "I must confess." The long-thorned Carolinian blossom cries, "Dangerous is love." The clustered white bridal rose breathes, "Happy love." The eglantine, rose of sorrow, bending to the wind and drooping its leaves like tears, whispers, "I wound to heal," and the golden Persian rose of evil scent fitly calls, "Beware—my jealousy."—The Circle.

French Foe of Race Suicide.

In the French senate there is a man who has forced the general government to begin subsidizing large families. This is Senator Edme Piot. Son of a Burgundian family so poor that he was kept from school to work in the fields, he broke stone on the highways and worked over all France as a navvy, but as early as 1854 he was [illegible] count and he finally became the greatest of all French railway contractors. Becoming very rich, Senator Piot has made himself famous through all Burgundy by a special kind of liberality—the financial authority on depopulation, president of the senate committee relative to subsidies which the law already permits to be granted to communes for distribution to families of five or more and author and untiring advocate of a bill for the subventioning of every mother at the time an addition is made to the population.

Ants Tenacious of Life.

Ants are really very long lived, considering their minuteness. A natural is had two queens under observation for ten years and one of Sir John Lubbock's ant pets lived into her fifteenth year. Ants are very tenacious of life after severe injury. Following loss of the entire abdomen they sometimes live two weeks and in one case a headless ant, carefully decapitated by aseptic surgery, lived for 41 days. A carpenter ant after being submerged eight days in distilled water came to life upon being dried, so that they are practically proof against drowning. They can live long periods without food, in one case the fast lasted nearly nine months.

World's Coal Consumption.

The total consumption of coal in the world is considerably over 50,000 tons an hour. Of this great quantity about 12,500 tons is required to heat the boilers of stationary, marine and railroad engines. The production of pig iron consumes over 5,000 tons an hour. The average hourly consumption of coal in households is considered to be about 10,000 tons.

Consumption is less deadly than it used to be.
Certain relief and usually complete recovery will follow from the use of Hope, pure, [illegible] Scott's Emulsion.
ALL DRUGGISTS: 50c. AND $1.00.

MYSTERY OF THE NILE

HOW WATER IN THE RIVER IS REGULATED FOR HARVESTS.

And Now Another Twenty-Three Feet Is to Be Added to the Great Dam Upon Historic Ruins.

[illegible] of a great white house on the eastern shore of the Nile, at Assouan, is slicked by [illegible] a Cairo the question: "How much water?" The answer comes, so many thousand gallons less. A button is pressed, the water which flows under the iron bridge at Cairo is increased or diminished some ten days later in accordance with the telegraphic answer and the intervening valley between Assouan and Cairo has a little more or a little less water on its surface. The man at the button may bring joy or sorrow to thousands of little farms—it is all according to the message he receives.

From the great white house there extends across the river a granite wall or dam 150 feet high. Half way up this wall, and stretching its entire length, a line of shutters opens or closes by a pressure of the button. In the winter months a huge lake expands to the southward, which has every appearance of being a flood, for, in certain places, the tops of palm trees are discernible above its surface, and the summits of inundated ruins apparently mark the sites of sunken cities. As the days go by, and Cairo demands more and more water, the palm trees and the ruins seem to rise from their watery beds, until, in June and early July, the river flows freely with all its historic indolence.

Still the cry for water is insatiable, and now the 150 feet of granite wall will be lengthened by 23 feet, which will double the power of the man at the button, and after that no more palms or ruins will unfold themselves, as the hot months come, from the surface of the lake. The palm trees will not be missed, but what of the ruins? That is the tribute of the past which modern agricultural Egypt is called upon to pay.

Just south of the granite wall is the island which holds the amphibious ruins. Twenty three feet of granite now stand between it and oblivion. It is named Philae, and it is the burial place of Osiris. A temple of 14 columns rises on its eastern bank and on its western is the great temple of Isis, begun by Ptolemy Philadelphus and added to by the Roman emperors. Its front is in the form of a propylon, before which is an expansive court bounded by two galleries, the column sides of which shut the sight for 200 feet. Behind the propylon are many halls and chambers of curious and fantastic design. The whelming waters of the winter months have already begun their work. Floors have sunken, columns fallen, and walls crumbled. The twenty-three additional feet of granite will complete the work of devastation. Philae and its ruins will never again feel the sun of Egypt.

It was thought that the granite wall across the Nile at Assouan, 150 feet high, would provide perpetual irrigation for the desert to the north. That was a mistake. But will the 23 additional feet to the summit of the wall, which will forever bury Philae, complete the work? Will the man at the button in the great white house ever have the power that Joseph had to direct, increase or diminish the flow of the river? Joseph had no Assouan dam and no shutters to manipulate by the pressure of a button. In what, therefore did his power to make Egypt perennially fertile consist?—N. Y. Times.

WHEN CHIPMUNKS SING.

Capable of Producing a Noisy Morning Chorus.

The chipmunk is not usually considered much of a songbird but according to Ernest Thompson Seton he is quite a success in a vocal role. In Manitoba the chipmunk comes above ground about the first or second week of April, says Mr. Seton in Success. Mounted on some log or root, it reiterates a loud chirp, "Chuck chuck-chuck!" Other chipmunks run forth into the sunlight and seeking some perch add their Chuck chuck-chuck to the spring salute. They are active from this time of the year on, and their sunny morning chorus is not by any means confined to that original outburst. On April 29, 1905 at Cos Cob I heard a chipmunk in full song. He kept it up for 11 minutes without ceasing and uttered 130 chirps to the minute. He got no reply though he worked very hard and seemed tired toward the last. On May 28 1906, at Cos Cob I heard a chipmunk singing. He kept it up for three minutes uttering three chirps to the second.

How to Walk

In walking it is important to walk as if one enjoyed it. Few women walk as if it were a pleasure. Some wear heels so high that they are compelled to peg along. Others wear the low, flat heels that give a curious dumpy, lumpy walk.

Then there are the women who walk the side-to-side waddle. This is caused by heels that are run over and clothing that is too tight. It is also caused by carelessness. The waddle walk is an easy one to get in the habit of and a difficult one to overcome.

There are women who walk as if they were carrying a burden. They have the laborious motion of the shoulder which tells that they are uncomfortable.

If women could only be made to appreciate what an important part of good looks a graceful carriage is there would be no more poor walkers among them.

The Backslider

There is one [illegible] thing—"

The lady sighed.

"There is not one thing more remarkable than the [illegible] with which Tom gave up smoking as soon as we became engaged."

"And what is that dear?" asked her friend.

"The haste with which he took it up again after [illegible]"

WOMAN'S REALM

FOR PERFECT TEETH

THEY MUST BE LOOKED AFTER CAREFULLY.

One of the Most Important Parts of the Day's Routine is the Toilet of the Mouth and Its Pearly Contents.

A woman's smile has been counted of great importance in the ways of the world this many a long century. Since there is not much sign to-day of its power waning, a brief study of the things that make this gentle charm should interest many women. It is true a well-formed mouth with normally tinted lips and pearl-like, even teeth is sometimes the free gift of nature. But she goes only so far, the crowning glory of a woman's smile can be achieved only through her own effort. If nature's work is not then taken up where she left it, it will deteriorate. To reach perfection, a woman must mold her thought, her daily habits, into channels of perfect strength and unfailing care.

The actual form of the lips depends almost entirely upon character. If nature produces anything that is at least normal, the latter character building carves the shape and mars or makes the charm. But aside from all this is the daily care that exerts such an influence toward a beautiful mouth.

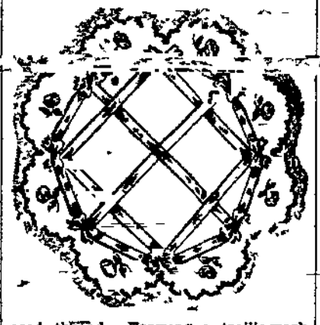
There is scarcely a greater indignity to the teeth than poking indiscriminately among them with metal instruments, such as pins. Objectionable material should always be removed with a soft blunt piece of wood, or a thread of dental floss. Should more effective means ever be necessary, a visit should be paid to the dentist. The expense of the monthly or bi-monthly cleaning with the dentist's emery wheel and various polishers can be saved by a weekly treatment at home. This, anyway, is more practical in the end. Wet the end of an orange stick in a strong solution of dioxide. Put the former in a box of powdered pumice stone, and with this paste carefully scrub the entire surface of the teeth, being most particular to reach the hidden crevices. This operation will keep away deposits of tartar and preserve the whiteness of the enamel. Dioxide by the way, is an excellent antiseptic. In concluding, the intelligent reader need hardly be reminded of the wisdom of giving the care of the teeth into the hands of a dentist immediately upon discovering need of his professional services.

MAKES A NICE PRESENT.

Table-Center That Has Groundwork of White Satin.

New ideas for dainty table-centers are always welcome, since there are few presents which can be made easily and quickly at home that are more acceptable than one of these useful accessories for the dinner table.

In the accompanying illustration may be seen something quite new in the way of a table-center, carried out in soft, white oriental satin or corded silk, with a border cut out in scallops all the way round, and sewn over with buttonhole stitches in gold-colored thread. Forming a trellis work across the middle there are straps of gold ribbon each strap finished at the end with a little bow while the design is outlined by a similar arrangement carried out also in gold ribbon. Single sprays of roses embroidered in pale shades of yellow complete the decoration which might be carried out, of course, in other colors and with other flowers if preferred. Pale pink ribbons, for instance with an embroidery of forget-me-nots would be very pretty, while pale green ribbons might be used if primroses or daffodils were chosen for the embroidery.



Woman's Luncheon.

Women have still a great deal to learn in the matter of economy in food. They crowd the tearooms and "quick lunch" restaurants and spend in the aggregate an enormous amount of money, in the majority of cases for food that neither nourishes nor satisfies them. They have not yet discovered that lettuce is twice as cooling as ice cream, and that mince pie is not a dish for early summer. The steak fried potatoes and coffee of the average man would disagree with most persons if partaken of to any great extent. A thin soup is usually twice as palatable as a thick one and is nearly and in some cases quite as nourishing. This with a sandwich or some cold meat lettuce or [illegible] and perhaps a simple sweet [illegible] pastry makes a satisfactory midday meal. Where there is the principal meal of the day [illegible] taken of but especially in summer all rich and heavy made dishes should be avoided and plenty of fresh vegetables should be partaken of.

[illegible]

TO BE MADE UP IN SERGE.

Severe Style—Peculiarly Appropriate for This Material.

This is a capital style for serge, either white or navy. The gored skirt has all the seams stitched on the right side, the front breadth being trimmed with buttons and cord loops.

The shaped piece round the foot must be made up on muslin, and is machine stitched several times, buttons being sewn in the scallops.

Tight fitting jacket, open to show a vest of white linen spotted with blue, and fastened with small blue bone buttons. The turn-over collar and cuffs are machine stitched several times.

Navy blue straw hat, trimmed with chine ribbon and a bunch of pale pink roses.

USEFUL AND PRETTY FASHION.

Plate Glass Tops That Fit Bedroom Furniture.

A charming and practical fashion has crept into vogue among the houses of the wealthy and might well be followed by housekeepers in more moderate circumstances. This is the ordering of plate glass tops to fit bedroom furniture, such as the dresser the chiffonier the fancy tables and desk, as well as the toilet-table if there should be one. Vanities under glass coverings are in vogue. Specially designed French lawn or sheer grass linen covers, some having monograms and crests embroidered in handkerchief fineness are laid over a silk or satin in color to match or harmonize with the other furnishings. Others again are white rep silk covers embroidered in colors or with colored ribbon embroidery. Old brocades are a still further choice. Ornaments as well as silver look exceedingly well upon these crystal sheets, pretty cmfw cmfwy mfwy mfwymfwy while the great advantage of preserving these expensive covers from air and dust adds to the real beauty of this glass top finish. It is no wonder [illegible] so practical a manner and has found into fav[illegible] or so rapidly.

Handy Window Seat.

If closet room is limited more room can be acquired by having seats built in under windows in the octagon end or side of a room in a bay window or in a corner. Have the fronts in panel effect finished with molding. Build the seat a comfortable height from the floor and wide enough for a reclining position to be used as a couch. Have the top put on with hinges so it can be raised. The space within can be used for sheets and pillow cases blankets and comforts. Material for sewing unfinished sewing or garments can be laid out full length as skirts. If for sewing under the lid of the seat tack two rows of elastic, behind which slip labeled patterns, or pockets can be tacked on divided into sections to correspond with the rest of the woodwork in the room and pile with sofa pillows. For a corner seat wainscot up the back four feet. Finish with molding and a narrow shelf on which set pottery. Hang pictures above. Top of seats can be upholstered.

New veilings.

One of the attractive new veilings is punctured chiffon which comes in all the fashionable shades. Hair lines are in favor, but should be worn only by women who have clear complexions. Medium sized chenille dots and large velvet dots far apart are fashionable. The new champagne colored veil with brown dots is the smartest thing of the season and it harmonizes so well with the popular brown and yellow shades which are used so much for suits. Chantilly lace veils lead in popularity for sailor hats. The new square chiffon veils with striped borders are in vogue for the automobile. They are more attractive than the oblong veil for they are less bungle-some and cooler. Squares ranging in size from 18 inches to a yard and in any color desired are shown in one shop.

Drew Tears in Plenty

A physician in Portland, Ore., [illegible] that 2,048 teaspoonfuls of tears, or two gallons in all were shed in one night, by the audience that [illegible]

A FACTORY HEROINE

Miss Mary Guinan, a resident of Middletown, [illegible] the first woman to receive the Roosevelt prize for bravery, is not at all confused by the [illegible] bestowed upon her. She is a modest little woman, and works every day at her machine in the shirt factory where she has [illegible] for [illegible]

On December [illegible] returning from her work she saw John C. Runyon, an aged merchant of Middletown, N. Y., [illegible] on the tracks of the Montgomery street, waiting for a train to pass. The train was going west, and Mr. Runyon did not see an eastbound train approaching.

Miss Guinan saw the old man's danger and, stooping under the gates, pushed the aged merchant off the east-bound track as the train rushed past. The two were for a moment in a space of less than three feet with a train rushing past at high speed on each side. Miss Guinan held the old man until one of the trains passed and then assisted him to the sidewalk.

Miss Guinan then went home without giving her name and told no one of the incident. One of the spectators followed her, and on learning her identity made the story public.

In talking about the incident, Miss Guinan said:

"I did not think I would get a medal. I did not think anything about it. I saw Mr. Runyon standing on the track and it worried me. I saw that he was going to be struck by the train, and I knew that I could not reach him in time to pull him back, so I thought I would push him in between the two trains and hold him fast until one of them went by. I was terribly frightened when the trains were rushing past on each side, and expected every minute we would be struck."

Three-Wheeled Autos.

Three wheeled motor vehicles have a number of advantages, but it has been found very difficult to introduce them, mainly because of the radical departure in the appearance, which suggests an old fashioned baby coach or a wheelbarrow more than anything else. A very determined effort was made to popularize this style of automobile in this country some time ago, and later, with more success, in England. A fire apparatus built on these lines has recently been put into service as part of the fire department of Nuremburg, Germany, and is said to be a great success. It is a steam pump, and the same source of power is used in propelling the engine and driving the pump.

Freedom's Charge.

"This magazine article says that bachelors should be taxed," remarked Mrs. Grouch.

"That's the way!" exclaimed Mr. Grouch, vigorously. "A man can't enjoy anything these days without paying for it."—Judge.

Mrs. Clarence Mackay was much distressed recently on visiting the county jail near her Long Island home to find that religious services for the prisoners on Sunday were marred by a piano that was out of tune, and made haste to supply the institution with a new instrument. Modern humane theories require us to do all we can to relieve the sorrows of our unfortunate fellow citizens who chance to get "pinched" and of course, remarks the Cleveland Leader, nothing could cause these afflicted and sensitive beings more cruel suffering than enforced listening to inharmonious sounds.

The New England physician who is advocating death at birth for deformed children as a means for the improvement of the human race seems to overlook the fact that Cupid was born blind. Just think of the love and romance the world would have missed had Cupid been chloroformed.

A judge has decided that a veniremen who has a farm to look after nowadays has trials enough without having to sit on a jury. Occasionally the goddess of justice lifts the bandage from her eyes and winks good naturedly at the bystanders.

We have physical culture and sewing and cooking as well as manual training in our schools but there is one thing lacking. Are we doing the right thing by the rising generation in not teaching scientific baseball?

BEWARE! BEWARE!
IMITATIONS
LOOK FOR THIS PACKAGE and NAME
Glenn's Sulphur Soap
It is suited for all the wants of railroad men, as well as his wife or children, for the immediate relief of all skin troubles. It removes grease and dirt, yet heals at the same time. Your [illegible]
N. B.—Beware of vile imitations. Ask for and obtain
GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP.
HILL'S HAIR AND WHISKER DYE, Black and Brown, 50 cts.

ANTIQUITY OF BEER
[illegible] manufactured [illegible] Beer was mentioned by the following ancient writers: Tacitus, Pliny, Xenophon and others. The Romans are supposed to have introduced the brewing of beer or ale, as it was then called, to the Britons, at the time of the latter's conquest by the former. The Britons continued the brewing of barley [illegible] it [illegible] about 1524, when [illegible] introduced the brewing of hops with the barley malt, calling it bier, or, in English, beer.
RETTIG'S BOTTLING WORKS,
CORNING, N. Y.,
Have constantly in stock all the leading brands of [illegible] and domestic, which can be [illegible]
SOFT DRINKS OF ALL KINDS
MINERAL WATERS, Etc,

If You Want the Best
ASK FOR
THE SCHWARZENBACH BREWING CO.'S
EXPORT
[illegible]
CALLICOON, N. Y.

The Gazette

WELLSBORO, TIOGA COUNTY, PA.

TERMS, $1.50 PER [illegible]

ADVERTISING.

TIME	1 in.	2 in.	3 in.	4 in.	5 in.	10 in.	20 in.
1 Week	1 00	2 00	4 00	5 00	6 00	11 00	16 00
2 Weeks	2 00	3 50	5 00	6 00	7 00	12 00	18 00
1 Month	3 50	4 00	6 00	7 00	9 00	15 00	20 00
2 Months	4 00	6 00	8 00	10 00	12 00	20 00	30 00
3 Months	5 00	8 00	10 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	35 00
6 Months	8 00	12 00	15 00	20 00	22 00	35 00	60 00
1 Year	12 00	18 00	24 00	28 00	36 00	60 00	100 00

BUSINESS NOTICES ON LOCAL PAGE.—Ten cents per line for first insertion, and five cents a line for every subsequent insertion. No business notice inserted for less than twenty-five cents.

Double rates will be charged for figure or blue work. Reasonable discounts to yearly advertisers.

No advertisement discontinued until all arrearages are paid, unless at the option of the publisher.

BUSINESS CARDS.

DR. H. W. BAILEY,
DENTIST.
Successor to Dr. Frank H. Rose, office over Graves & Mathers' store, Main street, Wellsboro, Pa.—Feb. 1-07.

ERNEST H. GREEN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW AND FIRE INSURANCE,
Office over First National Bank, Wellsboro, Pa. Entrance on Crafton street. Bell Telephone.—Sept. 20, 1906

JOHN GERKIN,
MERCHANT TAILOR.
Over Agitator office, Wellsboro, Pa. Samples of Imported and Domestic cloths, of beautiful patterns.

BLOOM & DAVIS,
BARBERS,
Shop in the Eastman block, opposite Coles House, Wellsboro, Pa. First-class work. Satisfaction guaranteed.

E. E. BUCK,
Merchant Tailor
WELLSBORO, PA.
We have a large and well selected stock of popular priced Woolens and Worsteds in all the latest effects, both foreign and domestic.
Compare our styles and values with others. It's an interesting study. It will show you the why and wherefore of our constantly increasing business.
PERFECT FIT GUARANTEED.
CALL AND LOOK US OVER.
A choice and select stock of Gents' Furnishing Goods may be found in connection with our merchant tailoring business.
E. E. BUCK.

EVANS BROS.,
ART STORE,
WELLSBORO, PA.
The largest and most complete line of Paintings, Etchings, Pastel Work, etc., in the county. [illegible] novelties. Large assortment of Picture Frames
Picture Frames Made to Order.
SOUVENIR POSTAL CARDS.
UNDERTAKING IN ALL BRANCHES.
BOTH PHONES.

JOB PRINTING
OF ALL KINDS
AT THE
GAZETTE OFFICE
Executed in the highest style of art and at the lowest living prices.
Call and see our samples of Engraved Cards, Wedding Sets, Announcements, etc.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
Munn & Co. 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.
PATENTS

GET MAIL BY WATER

MARINE RURAL FREE DELIVERY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Contract Also Brought Closer Touch with Outside World During Summer Months.

[illegible] "Marine rural delivery route No. 3" has no counterpart within the limits of the United States. It was inaugurated June 1. In unofficial parlance, it is the free delivery of mail service on Lake Winnipiseogee.

Instead of the Postman's ring or knock, cottagers for over a distance of 50 miles between the southerly end of Lake Paugus, at Lakeport, and Wolfeboro, at the other end of the lake, hear each morning the shrill blast of the mail steamer. An amphibious mail carrier winds in and out of the regular pathway of the passenger steamers and delivers all classes of mail matter practically at the doors of the thousands of cottagers who make their homes during the summer months in this region.

It is a city delivery transferred to the country, and on water instead of overland. Its establishment has brought every camp and cottage along the shore and upon the many islands [illegible] A double daily service now makes it possible for the Boston business man in his island camp ten miles or more down the lake to receive his office mail in the early forenoon and have his replies back in the Boston post office before nine o'clock the same evening.

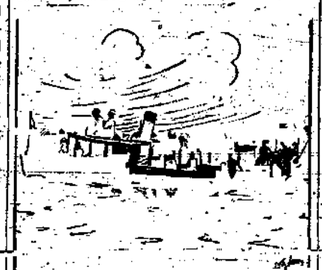
For this service the only requirements demanded by the post office department are that the owners or occupants of the cottages and camps shall provide suitable landing places for the busy little steamers engaged in the mail delivery. Upon these landings are erected suitable letter boxes of a design furnished by the department, and they are so placed as to be available for the carrier without putting him to undue delay.

This service consists of a daily delivery from May 15 to October 15, except during July and August, when two deliveries daily will be made to the greater portions of the landings. Registered letters, too, are received and delivered by the carriers, who are also captains of the boats upon which they make their trips. Money orders are as available as at the regular money order offices.

"Marine free rural delivery route No. 3" is not the result of a day's or a year's study. It is the steady growth and the fruits of a service inaugurated several years ago as an experiment on the part of the post office department. Charles E. Buzzell, postmaster at Lakeport, was its originator, and under [illegible] service has been developed and brought to its present condition. Supporting all towns have been the New Hampshire congressional delegation and former Congressman Stephen L. [illegible] of Massachusetts, whose summer home is located on the route of the mail boat.

[illegible] ward step since the inception of the service, and the business has practically doubled each year. For one week of the season of 1906 the number of pieces of mail matter delivered exceeded by several hundred that of the year when the route was first established.

The first boat used when the route was established was the Robert and Arthur, owned by the first carrier, Dr.



Mail Steamer "Dolphin."

George H. Saltmarsh of Lakeport, now state senator for the Fourth district. The capacity of this boat being insufficient for the fast increasing business, the steamer Dolphin was built. Up to the last year she fully met all the requirements of fast delivery, but during that season the business of route 3 grew to such proportions that a larger and faster steamer was found necessary.

So a swift and commodious mail steamer was built at Lakeport, and will be placed in commission this summer. She has been christened Uncle Sam, and is designed to make the trips between Lakeport and Long Island, where close connection will be made with the older steamer Dolphin, which will continue the delivery to all cottages and camps between the point and Wolfeboro, at the extreme other end of the big lake.

Capt. Archie Lewis of Laconia succeeded Dr. Saltmarsh as mail carrier on this "delivery extraordinary," and there is not a man on the lake in command of a steamer more favorably known to the large army of summer residents. As commander of the old steamer Dolphin, Guy M. Tetley of Laconia has qualified as carrier under the law, and is now in command of the Undine, which at present performs the service on the Wolfeboro end of the system.

HEADS NEW ASIATIC BUREAU.

Huntington Wilson Wins Promotion by Hard Work.

Washington.—Another proof that hard work tells even in the polished,

HUNTINGTON WILSON.
(Chicagoan—Appointed Head of New Asiatic Bureau.)

easy-going circles of diplomacy, came the other day with the announcement that Huntington Wilson, of Chicago, third assistant secretary of state, has been appointed head of the new "bureau of Asiatic affairs" established by Secretary Root in the state department.

Assistant Secretary Wilson is known as one of the hardest-working men in Washington and it is generally admitted that his latest promotion is well deserved. That the position is important is shown by the world-wide interest in the Japanese-California dispute as well as in the Philippine and Hawaiian problems. All these subjects will come under the new bureau.

Mr. Wilson went into the diplomatic service soon after leaving Yale in 1897. His most important position was with the American embassy at Tokio during the war with Russia. His record there was so good that he was promoted to third assistant secretary of state over the heads of a number of young men who had considerable political influence working in their behalf. It was generally recognized that Mr. Wilson's appointment was along the lines of the merit system established by President Roosevelt for the diplomatic service.

MORGAN TOGA FOR BANKHEAD.

Former Georgian Congressman Named to Succeed Late Senator.

Birmingham, Ala.—Gov. Comer has appointed former Congressman John Hollis Bankhead to the vacancy in the United States senate from Alabama caused by the death of Senator John T. Morgan, the appointment to hold until the legislature meets July 19.

Col. Bankhead ran first in the Democratic primaries for alternate senator last August. He was born in Moscow, Ala., Sept 13, 1842. He is self-educated and is a farmer. He served four years in the confederate army, being wounded three times. Mr. Bankhead represented his county in the Alabama general assembly for three years and in the state senate for two years. In 1881 he was made warden of the Alabama penitentiary, serving four years.

He then went to congress, serving in the Fiftieth congress and in every successive one until March 4 last, when he retired, being defeated for reelection by Capt Richmond Pearson Hobson, the hero of the Merrimac adventure at Santiago. This defeat was the direct cause of his selection as alternate senator in the recent primary. Mr. Bankhead is well loved throughout Alabama, and the sympathy occasioned for him by the victory of Hobson resulted in thousands of votes for him.

ONE SERVICE A YEAR.

English Church Probably Only One of Its Kind in the World.

There stands upon a hill in the village of Uphill, in the county of Somerset, England, a small and very old church, which is surrounded by caves in which the bones of all kinds of animals have been discovered. This historic place of worship, which looks down upon Uphill Castle and the village itself, was at one time the only place of worship for miles round.

For several years no Sunday services have been held within its walls, and the only time that the public are allowed to worship there is one night in the year—on Christmas Eve—when the vicar of Uphill or some other clergyman officiates. There is a public path leading up the hill to the church but as the hill is a very steep one and the distance great, very few people visit the church. It is by order of the Bath Trust, I conveyance [illegible] It is up to the public [illegible] this interesting edifice, one of which is to the effect that the church was purposely built on the top of the hill so that the preacher could feel convinced of the sincerity of the faith of those who accomplished the task of climbing to it. The church has been visited by people from all parts of the world. It is the only building in England—probably in the world—in which Divine service is conducted only once a year.

Senator Dubois' Plans.

Former Senator Dubois has closed his residence in Washington and taken his family back to Idaho, where he will soon begin the publication of a high-class weekly newspaper at Boise, the state capital. Mr. Dubois had intended to accept the tempting offer of a lecture bureau to make the round of the chautauqua circuits this summer with a lecture, but it is understood that he has abandoned that purpose in order to devote his [illegible] wholly to his projected newspaper.

IRISH CHURCH BELLS

THE EARLIEST ONES WEIGHED ONLY A FEW OUNCES.

First Adopted About the Time [illegible] Were Made of Hammered Iron.

It was about the time of St. Patrick, in the fifth century, that bells began to be adopted in the Christian church, though their use in other directions was long anterior to Christianity, as Mr. Layard records having found some in the palace of Nimrod. The first Christian bells, like St. Patrick's, weighed only a few ounces, and from that they gradually increased till the greatest weight was reached at Moscow with 198 tons of beautifully enriched work, a strange contrast to humble "Clog-an-eadhachta Petraic," or "bell of Patrick's well," sometimes referred to as the bell of Armagh, with its diminutive dimensions of six inches deep, made of thin sheets of hammered iron, bent into a four-sided form, fastened with rivets and brazed or bronzed. This bell is at once the most authentic and the oldest Irish relic of Christian metal work that has descended to us, and is mentioned in the "Annals" under the date of 552.

Such as this were the bells of the early apostles of Ireland, but the age was a progressive one, and advancing art soon claimed the bells to work on, and the hammered iron gave way to bronze castings, more skillful workmanship and to more perfect resonance. We are fortunate enough to have on loan the finest example in the Bangor bell of what the craft of bell making had advanced to by the time the tenth century had dawned. For 500 years the iron bell of Patrick had done its duty, and now it had to be laid by.

The same story applies to many other famous bells of Ireland and their shrines, but the church loved these ancient bells, and their associations rendered them most precious relics. They must be preserved, and the far famous gold workers of Ireland came to the rescue and brought the national art, then in the zenith of its perfection, to bear on the "cases" to hold them called "shrines" and by far the most beautiful of all was that for the bell of the great patron saint of Ireland.

The early church builders and artificers of Ireland were skillful and bold and fearless in their creations; with an independence of thought, they struck out original lines to work on. We see it in the stone-roofed churches, the stately round towers, the great crosses—a model of one, the finest cross on earth, stands near the case containing the bells—and by the preservation of the bells themselves we see in the reliquaries or shrines another master thought, repeated nowhere else, and these remain a purely Irish characteristic. A few found a resting place in Scotland, but a great authority says "they are attributed to Irish saints, and we naturally turn to Ireland in search of the parent group."

The "shrine" was made to inclose the rude iron bell. This fine example of the goldsmith's work must have been executed between the years 1091 and 1105, when Donell McAuley, whose name is given in the inscription, filled the see of Armagh. The shrine is made of brass, on which the ornamented parts are fastened down with rivets. The front is adorned with silver gilt plaited, and knot work in golden filigree. The silver work is partly covered with scrolls, some in alto-relievo and some in bas-relief. It is also decorated with gems and crystals, and on the sides are animal forms, elongated and twisted into interlaced scrolls. Since the original shrine was made, in 1091, it has never been lost sight of, but has been handed down from custodian to custodian, generally of the same family.

A PHILADELPHIA IDEA.

How an Ingenious Student Avoided a Tardy Mark.

A certain student at the Central high school hit upon a brilliant idea to escape punishment for lateness. It is an established rule at the institution to detain all pupils one hour after regular dismissal for each case of lateness, and if the same student is late three times in one month he is liable to suspension for one day, unless he is able to furnish a reasonable excuse. A suspension carries with it a forfeiture of exemptions in four and sometimes five studies. The student in question, through some unavoidable delay, was late twice in one month. While going to school one morning, the car in which he rode was held up for about 15 minutes at Washington avenue by the freight trains. Fearing suspension through his chronic lateness the student tore a leaf from his notebook and asked his fellow passengers to affix their signatures to a note which declared that he was detained by the railroad cars. He arrived at school several minutes late, but on presentation of his note, signed with 20 names, he was excused by the professors.—Philadelphia Record.

Made a Hit With Women.

Two men who had been friends for years went into the restaurant business about the same time. Both ran clean, unpretentious moderate-priced houses. One made a success, the other didn't.

"I succeeded," said the lucky one, "because I made a special appeal to women. I always prepared dishes and set my tables in such a way that they could get points on good housekeeping. At every meal I got up some fancy dish that women would be sure to like, and if they wished it I gave them the recipe. In a little while I got the name of being a good fellow.

"You ought to eat at Blank's," said one woman to another. "They'll make you a present of a first-class cook book if you eat there often enough."

"And that settled it. With the women on my side [illegible]"

BRIDE OF A SENATOR

MISS EDDY OF CHICAGO TO WED ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE.

Senator Will Groom a National Figure.

Chicago.—Miss [illegible] daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus N. Eddy of this city has been wooed and won by United States Senator Beveridge of Indiana. Senator Beveridge recently sailed for Europe. Miss Eddy is in Germany visiting her brother Spencer Eddy, who is secretary of the United States legation in Berlin.

The date of the wedding, according to friends here, has not been definitely fixed, but will occur before congress reassembles in December.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Eddy to Senator Beveridge created no surprise in Washington. Miss Eddy spent the last two seasons in that city, and her parents lived in a fashionable apartment house at Sixteenth and M streets northwest. The family closed the apartment early in the spring, and Miss Eddy went to Europe to arrange her trousseau.

Miss Eddy is a niece of Mrs. Marshall Field. Both her father and mother belong to the families long prominent in Chicago. Her mother was Miss Abbie L. Spencer, daughter of the founder of the firm of Hibbard, Spencer & Co.

She was graduated some years ago from an eastern college and after her graduation spent some time abroad. She was presented to Chicago society four or five years ago, and since then has spent a part of each year in Europe, traveling sometimes with her mother and at other times with Mrs. Marshall Field. She is a linguist of rare ability and has been presented at several of the courts of Europe.

Miss Eddy has great personal charm. She is tall, slender and graceful, and has a wealth of golden hair which she wears in heavy braids twined about the crown of her head, alluded to by her friends as "Katherine Eddy's natural coronet."

Miss Eddy is fond of walking, and while in Washington she and Senator Beveridge frequently took long walks into the country and not infrequently Miss Eddy accompanied him on his morning walk to the capitol. She took the keenest interest in his struggle for legislation to prevent the employment of child labor and was interested in his speeches.

Senator Beveridge was the youngest man in the United States [illegible] he entered eight years [illegible] the age of 36. His gift of oratory [illegible] him a national [illegible] [illegible] his [illegible] of [illegible] and his [illegible] has caused him to be referred to as "the young man's sort [illegible]

The senator was a plowboy in Ohio when he was 10 years old. The natives of Highland County, Ohio, are said to easily recall him because of his ambitious nature, which early showed itself.

MISS KATHERINE EDDY.
(Chicago Girl Who Will Wed Senator Beveridge.)

At 14 he was a laborer, and two years later was working in a logging camp in Illinois. It was in the logging camp that he began to study national affairs. In 1881 he borrowed $50 from a friend and entered De Pauw university at Greencastle, Ind. Here he won all the debates and got prizes enough to pay his college expenses for two years. In 1885, after two years of work on a ranch, he returned to Indianapolis and began the study of law.

Mr. Beveridge married Katherine Langsdale at Greencastle, Ind., in 1887. She died in 1900.

PORTABLE CHURCH FOR PANAMA

Will Be Made in New York, Shipped to Colon, and Set Up.

New York.—The first church "made in New York" and set up in a distant land will be one at Colon, Panama. To accommodate the increasing number of white residents in that section who wish to attend service on Sundays, and who now hold religious services in the hotel parlors, plans are under way for the setting up of a portable church, similar to those of the United States. The building will be made in New York in sections, and shipped to Colon, where it can be put together easily.

The Church for Colon.

The portable church still possesses the feature of novelty, although it has been growing in favor and in use during the past five or six years. At least 30 such structures are to be found within the limits of Greater New York.

The buildings are constructed in sections, usually two feet nine inches by twelve feet. The blank sections are made all alike, so that they can go together any way without being numbered, except those framing the windows and doors. The material used is generally yellow pine throughout, and with the exception of the sills, girders and cross beams, for which spruce is preferred. The roofs are covered with sheets of galvanized steel laid under sheet asbestos.

The buildings are as a rule churchly in appearance, and fairly comfortable. They are built to accommodate from 100 to 700, according to size of congregations. Windows of imitation stained glass accompany the frame of the church and shed a softening glow through the little brown interiors.

NEW HEAD OF NEW YORK LIFE.

Sketch of D. P. Kingsley, Recently Elected President.

New York.—Darwin Pearl Kingsley, who has been elected president of the New York Life Insurance company, was a teacher and a newspaper man before he entered the insurance business. In 1886 he was elected state auditor of Colorado and ex-officio superintendent of insurance, and in 1889 he entered the New York Life as agency inspector for New England. He was elected trustee and third vice president in 1898 and was chosen vice president in 1903. Mr. Kingsley was born in Alburgh, Vt., in 1857, and was educated at Barre Academy and the University of Vermont, being graduated "honor man" in 1881, winning election to Phi Beta Kappa. In 1882 he went to Colorado, and two years later he was a delegate to the national Republican convention. Among his insurance associates he is known as a conservative, and his watchwords are safety and economy.

Biggest Cranberry Bog.

The largest cranberry bog in the world is being established in this state. When completed it will cover 500 acres, of which 300 will be under cultivation by July 1. The work of laying out and cultivating the bog was begun more than two years ago, and since then a force of more than 100 men has been at work.

The bog is located on what is for the most part a natural swamp bordering on a pond from which water is distributed over the swamp by a pumping station.—Boston Herald.

Criticism.

"I almost landed a whopper. It was a big pike that was nearly two feet long and I'll bet it weighed over six pounds. I got it as far as the boat when my line broke."

"Nature fakir," was the only comment of the man to whom the speech had been addressed.—Detroit Free Press.

HARD PATHWAY OF LOVE.

The Cause of Marital Unrest of the Present Day.

In the time of our great-grandmothers and grandmothers nobody thought of dissolving the marriage tie. A woman's career was marriage, and having once embarked upon it she never considered going back.

But in these days debate is rampant, and so many persons have "considered going back" that one wonders what slight reciprocal affection induced them ever to advance at all. Probably it was not affection, but attraction, which depends upon outward and visible signs rather than inward and spiritual graces, and can't be the [illegible] unlikely and unlikeable characters to find each other irresistibly charming. And while they are finding each other charming marriage is so easy! Since the beginning of the world [illegible] and advice have done very little toward the [illegible] of marriage [illegible] relationships have [illegible] most young people, if left to form their own characters, with little in the way of responsibility forced upon them and a great deal in the way of comfort and pleasure at their right hand, will form rather self-indulgent characters, which, rushing rapturously into matrimony, as it were into the seventh heaven, are exceedingly chagrined to find how much self-denial is demanded of them when they get there. Nobody has explained to them what marriage and the companionship of it really means, nor what a fund of tact and tenderness, forbearance, good will and gentle judgment one must have to tide over the hard places that come at times to even the most loving couples.—Caroline Duer, in the Delineator.

Proved He Was Right.

Tom—He wanted to marry Miss Inherit, and declared that it was solely an affair of the heart.

Jack—And when her father [illegible] what effect did it have on him?

[illegible]

WAYS OF KILLING MOTHS.

Preparations to Use If Clothes Are to Be Packed Away.

According to the general belief, camphor, naphthalene and tobacco will not kill clothes moths. They act [illegible] repellants; where they are used the moths will not [illegible] young [illegible] substances of this nature will live no [illegible] clothes moths [illegible] is to give them a thorough brushing [illegible] air and sunshine. Where they are to be packed away, fumigation with carbon bisulphide is the surest method. The garments are put in a tight trunk, with moth marbles.

Then a saucer is placed on top of the pile with four or five tablespoonfuls of liquid carbon bisulphide in it, easily obtained at all druggists. The lid is closed and the trunk left undisturbed until the clothes are wanted.

The bisulphide evaporates, and being heavier than air, settles through the garments. It is deadly to insect life and will destroy it in all stages. No odor will remain in the clothes after airing them a few moments, so that they can be used as soon as they are taken out. The moth marbles prevent other females from crawling in to lay their eggs.

A simple way, but not so sure, is after brushing the goods to pack them in ordinary paper boxes or flour bags, [illegible] the cracks in order to keep out the moths. For closets, cracks, carpets, furniture or carriage furnishings, a thorough sprinkling of benzine or gasoline will clean out the pests.

CARE OF THE BLANKETS.

Needful Precautions to Be Taken When Washing Them.

Blankets are a difficulty to many people, mostly because they cannot make up their minds as to how often they should be washed or how they should be treated. In many houses they are only washed once a year, at the inevitable spring cleaning; but somehow that does seem rather too rare a proceeding. On the other hand, it is really not necessary to have them washed more than twice a year; but they must have proper care in the interval in the shape of airing, shaking, etc. If washed at home they can be got up to perfection, whereas by sending them out there is always the risk of shrinking. A washing machine is very good for this purpose, especially as they should never be rubbed by the hand; in fact, when there is no machine, housewives care for the well-being of their goods, they are always treated with what is commonly called a "dolly." This is a well-known contrivance, by means of which the blanket is well shaken and worked about in the tub, so that it is thoroughly cleaned without being touched with the hands. The water should only be lukewarm, and no soda must be used—a little washing powder or white soap well lathered in the water is all that will be required.

Raftered Ceilings.

The effect of a heavily beamed ceiling may be obtained by any one through the ingenuity of certain manufacturers mentioned by Interior Decorating, who furnish artificial beams or rafters, or, to be literal, skeleton beams having all the effect of the hand-hewn beams of primitive times, but so light that they can be fastened to the ceiling by the wallpaper man. Being made of wood, they will take wood stains perfectly.

Better Than Darning.

Don't darn large holes in the knees and feet of stockings. Cut a circular patch from the leg of worn stockings saved for that purpose. Lap over the place to be mended. Catstitch down firmly on the stocking. Turn and catstitch the raw edge on the other side of the material. After trimming neatly. This makes a perfectly flat, seamless patch, much less noticeable and more comfortable than a darned place.

Egg Balls on Toast.

Hard cook six eggs, remove the yolks whole, chop the whites, and keep both hot in the warming oven. Prepare six rounds of hot buttered toast and spread with deviled ham, making a slight depression in the center of each to receive an egg yolk. Make one pint of thin white sauce, add the chopped whites of egg and pass with the toast, in a gravy boat.—Good Housekeeping.

HAPPY WOMEN.
Wouldn't any [illegible] be happy
After years of backache, suffering,
Dragging pains of [illegible],
The aches of urinary troubles
To find relief and cure?
No reason why any reader
Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble, but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand in my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted faces. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used fifty boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and [illegible] of the pain and the [illegible] of the kidney action. My circulation [illegible] and I feel better in every way."
A FREE TRIAL [illegible] Mrs. J. [illegible]

Beef, Iron and Wine.

[illegible] makes rich blood and builds flesh. If your druggist is out of it, don't take a substitute, but send 50c. for a bottle. Beef, Iron and Wine will build you up. Large 50c. size bottle.

Corner Drug Store. EAZLE HOWLD

[illegible] furs and winter-wraps [illegible] protected from moths with

Red Cedar Flakes

because they are the [illegible] to use and only need to be placed in the folds of the clothing, fur or flannels and placed in Trunks, Drawers or Closets [illegible] wrapped in paper [illegible] over [illegible] to be [illegible] putting your goods away this year with

RED CEDAR FLAKES.

15c. qtr. 2 qts. 25c.

BLATCHLEY & CAMPBELL

WELLSBORO, PA.

LOCAL NOTICES.

OLIVER PLOWS and extras at Bailey & Horam's.

POULTRY WANTED.—The highest market [illegible] Schiffler's [illegible]. —May 23-tf.

SPECIAL SALE, at the Fair, beginning Saturday Aug. 3d, and ending Saturday, Aug. 10th.—July 25-3t.

IF you contemplate buying furniture, Carpets, Curtains, or Go-carts, [illegible] Bailey & Horam.

LAST DANCE OF THE SEASON—Joseph E. Fischler will give the last dance of the season at his barn in Delmar on Friday evening, August 2d. Good music and good order. Everybody invited.

THE eighth annual reunion of former students and graduates of the Mansfield State Normal School will be held in the form of a basket picnic in Grove Park at Elmira on Wednesday, August 14th.

[illegible] engraved cards and plate for $1.00, at this office; 100 for $1.50. Call and see samples of cards and wedding stationery, for which we are prepared [illegible]

STRAWBERRY PLANTS.—We will [illegible] after August 1st, for $2.50 per [illegible] E. CALLAHAN,
R. F. D. 3, Wellsboro, Pa.
Box No. 13.—July 11-tf.

SILVER PLATING.—I am agent for the Syracuse Plating Works, manufacturers of fine silverware. Replating of all kinds and of the very highest quality. All work guaranteed. We solicit your business.
C. S. COOLIDGE,
August 1-4t. Wellsboro, Pa.

WALKER-GREEN REUNION.—The Walker-Green reunion will be held at the home of Charles Bernauer in Delmar on Friday, August 16th. A [illegible] members.
MRS. LIZZIE EVANS, Secy.,
R. F. D. 5, Wellsboro, Pa.

CLEARANCE SALE.—In order to clean up my stock preparatory to putting in a full new stock in the fall, I am [illegible] hats, caps, shirts, ties and [illegible] see. E. E. BUCK,
July 18-3t. Wellsboro, Pa.

HARNESS SHOP.—Having just completed [illegible] of remodeling and improving my harness shop on Main street, in rear of the Tioga County Savings and Trust Co., I am now better [illegible] ply the public with anything in the line of harnesses and [illegible] Single and Double Harnesses made to order on short notice and repair work of all kinds given prompt attention. A lot of Deering harvesting machinery and farming tools will be closed out cheap for cash. Call and look the stock over.
May 16, 1907-tf. D. W. NAVLE.

A Niagara Falls and Tri-City Excursion. [illegible] Tuesday, Aug. 13th, via New York Central. $6.35 to the Falls and [illegible] to Toronto. Stop over at Buffalo. [illegible]

The Gazette

THURSDAY, AUG. 1, 1907.

New Advertisements.

Stocks—Robert E. Wright.
A Universal Need—Bell Telephone.
Red Cedar Flakes—Blatchley & Campbell.
Office Assistant Wanted—Gazette office.
[illegible]

LOCAL BREVITIES.

—Mrs. Helen Shaw is visiting friends at Canton.

—The trout fishing season closed yesterday.

—Mrs. Cloyce Gillespie is visiting relatives in Elmira.

—George Hitchcock, of Elmira, is [illegible]

—Hon. A. B. Hitchcock, of Knoxville, was in town Tuesday.

—Mrs. W. W. Miller is spending a few days at Chautauqua Lake.

—Mrs. Addie Thompson is visiting relatives in Chatham this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. William E. Merz, of Troy, were in town Tuesday.

—A large party of Wellsboro people visited Watkins Glen last Sunday.

—J. H. Niles, of Nelson, had business at the county seat last Friday.

—Thomas R. Dartt lost one of his span of work horses last Thursday morning at Galeton last week.

—Miss Mary Och, of Corning, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. C. Siemens.

—Prof. and Mrs. J. W. Moyer, of Philadelphia, are visiting relatives in town.

—Miss Mary Daugherty, of State College, is the guest of Miss Catherine Focht.

—Leroy Horton has purchased the [illegible] family horse and buggy of Frank S. Dunkle.

—Mrs. L. A. Potter and grandson, of Syracuse, N. Y., are visiting relatives in town.

—Joseph Emberger, of Crooked Creek, was a business visitor in town [illegible]

—The Presbyterian parsonage is being improved by a large new veranda.

—George C. Brooks came out last Saturday with a handsome new Winton touring car.

—Mrs. Eliza Russell is visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Grosjean, in Watkins, N. Y.

—Jerry McCarty, of Blossburg, a former resident of this borough, was in town Monday.

—Miss Sarah Seeley, of New York city, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Frank Conevery.

—Thomas Ryan, of the Hotel Wilcox, has been visiting at his home in Morris this week.

—John Stieger, of the firm of Stieger Bros., of Williamsport, had business in town yesterday.

—[illegible] company of ladies at a card party on Tuesday afternoon.

—The Tioga County Landlord's Association will meet in Wellsboro next Thursday afternoon.

—Mrs. R. L. Hill, Jr., and daughter, Dorothy, of Corning, are visiting at the home of N. P. White.

—Manager Dartt is booking some excellent attractions at the Auditorium for the coming season.

—Editor Charles E. Redfield and R. E. Cleveland, of Covington, had business in town last Saturday.

—Dr. F. G. Elliott, of Mansfield, was in town last Saturday and was a caller at the GAZETTE office.

—Mrs. Henry Stickley and Mrs. Joseph Tots, of Elmira, visited relatives in town a few days last week.

—Mrs. Jennie Toy, of Westchester, and John Kift, of Muncy, are visiting at the home of F. B. Wetmore.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwards have commenced housekeeping in the Roberts house on East avenue.

—John R. Smith has been making some very noticeable improvements to his residence on Grant street.

—Miss Mildred McChesney, of New York city, is the guest of Miss [illegible] at the home of Frank A. Roberts.

—Mrs. John L. Robinson, of Mechanicsburg, is visiting at the home of her brother, Dr. H. W. Bailey.

[illegible] Y., is visiting at the home of her aunts, Mrs. and Mrs. O. G. Padgett.

—Misses Sarah E. King and Laura Edwards have resigned their positions as operators at the Bell exchange.

—Dr. W. D. Vedder, of Expedit, Columbia county, is spending a few days with his family in this place.

—A cement walk is being put down in front of Young's wooden block on Main street. Samuel Kimball has the job.

—Postmaster T. H. Bailey, of Mansfield, [illegible] at the home of his father, Dr. H. W. Bailey, [illegible]

—A carp which measured 30 inches in length and weighed 10½ pounds was caught in Marsh creek the other day.

—Miss Lou Mitchell, of Wilmerding, Allegheny county, is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. R. H. Smith.

—The Red Men of Tioga county will [illegible] picnic in Woodland Park on Tuesday, Sept. 3d.

—Mrs. [illegible] VanValkenburg are spending a few days at the former's cottage on Four Mile Run.

—Mrs. [illegible] daughter, Louise, were [illegible] Mrs. Pratt's sister, Mrs. R. B. [illegible] last week.

—Miss Elizabeth Dougherty, of Mount Carmel, are visiting at St. Peter's rectory.

—Messrs. Oliver Bacon and Frank S. Dunkle left last Thursday for Mount Clemens, Mich., to receive treatment for rheumatism.

—[illegible] days, succeeded with an attack of pneumonia, is reported much better.

—Mrs. Arthur Gifford and little son, of Philadelphia, are visiting at the home of Homer D. Gifford on Sherwood street.

—Miss Frank R. Deans and daughter, Carrie, left on Monday for a two weeks' visit with relatives at Wrightsville, York county.

—Last Saturday afternoon the County Commissioners appointed Fred Doumaux to the position of [illegible] Commissioner' Clerk.

—Miss Ada E. Giles, Mrs. Nina G. Bacon and S. J. Giles, of Colorado Springs, Colorado, are visiting their sister, Mrs. A. M. Roy.

—Jack Clark, of the "thirst place" at Corning was in town Tuesday to see "Bobby" Walker try out his fast pacer on the race track.

—Miss Elizabeth Landrus entertained a large company of young ladies at a porch party at her home on West avenue last Thursday afternoon.

—Clinton Williams, of the clerical force at the Tioga County Savings and Trust Company, left yesterday morning for Indian Territory on a business trip.

—William Brown, aged 67 years, of Nelson, died last Friday afternoon of heart disease. The remains were taken to Nelson on Saturday for burial.

—A large and attractive new sign was erected on Finkelstein Brothers' block yesterday afternoon. It is 35 feet long and [illegible] high.

—The household goods of A. R. Spicer have been shipped to Williamsport and the family of Mr. Spicer will move to that city next week. They reside.

—David E. Barber, of Corning, a brother of Engineer John Barber, of this borough, died in that city last Friday morning. He was 58 years of age.

—Arthur H. Hilboldt and Miss Ethel M. Betts, both of this place, were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Betts.

—Howard English, who has been employed in the art store of M. T. Myers at Geneva, N. Y., is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette English.

—Harry English, formerly of Wellsboro, who has been in the employ of the Standard Oil Company at Gaines for the past eight years, has been transferred to Bradford.

—Mrs. T. E. Roberts and little son, [illegible] Feltwell and Master Frank Feltwell, of Altoona, are guests of Mrs. B. F. Hawley on East avenue.

—The Spicer residence on Central avenue, recently purchased by the First Baptist church as a parsonage, is being [illegible] for the use of Rev. C. G. Langlow and family.

—[illegible] Decker were baptized by Rev. Fremont Kerrick, of Wellsboro, in Marshlton creek, near the mill containing plant, last Wednesday evening.

—Messrs. C. W. Hardt, of Harrisburg, and Arthur W. Long, of Scranton, both Wellsboro boys, have been appointed State Engineers by State Highway Commissioner Hunter.

—Hiram Smith, of Eldred, McKean county, is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Almon Wetmore. Mr. Smith will leave in a few days for Wyoming to reside with his son.

—Mrs. M. C. Clark and Miss Mary Moriarty, of Blossburg, and Mrs. Frank Webb and son, Francis, of Elmira, are visiting their sister, Mrs. William B. Sullivan, on Meade street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jerome D. Niles, of Philadelphia, arrived in town last Thursday [illegible] for a visit with [illegible] Mr. Niles at [illegible] on Sunday [illegible] will [illegible]

—Forest Sheath Frank VanDusen, of Gaines, [illegible] pickerel in [illegible] weighed six pounds and ten ounces. It is said to have been the largest pickerel ever taken from that lake.

—Mrs. G. W. Whittaker, of [illegible] Putnam, the past week. Mrs. W. [illegible] Blanchard and daughter, of Covington, have also been the guests of Mrs. Putnam several days.

—William [illegible] Jersey Shore on Monday [illegible] dered by the foremen of the Avis shops in honor of E. A. Walton, the retiring superintendent of motive power.

—Mrs. Champlin and her daughter, Miss Edythe Champlin, left on Monday morning for New city, where they will reside. Miss Champlin has an engagement as violinist with an orchestra at a summer resort in the South.

—[illegible] was commenced on Monday morning. The rapidity with which the two [illegible] workmen lay the track [illegible] afternoon, from 2:00 to 5:00 [illegible] being put down.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Metzger and Mrs. Metzger's mother, Mrs. Sarah Fish, of New York city, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Fish's sister, Mrs. Charles [illegible] Roberts. Mr. Metzger [illegible] Stock Brokers' office in New York.

—Beginning to-day the postoffices at Brownlee, Delmar, Cherry [illegible] and East Charleston will be discontinued. The patrons of these offices will be served by the rural delivery carriers from Wellsboro, [illegible] and Covington.

—[illegible] R. Mathers, Mrs. Mary Dartt, Mrs. Frank J. Bullock [illegible] L. Beverson enjoyed an automobile ride in Mr. [illegible] White touring car to Corning on Monday evening. They took supper at the Park Hotel at Tioga.

—[illegible] clerk in the Auditor General's department at Harrisburg, has been in town a few days packing his household goods for shipment. He [illegible] to leave to-day with his family for the capitol city, where they will reside.

—The Williamsport Sun says editorially: "The business [illegible] Wellsboro, in particular, and a wide area of Northern [illegible] throughout which he was well known—in the death of Levi A. Gardner lose a man concededly of sterling character."

—John R. Dengle, of Patton, was in town last Thursday evening between trains while en route for Galeton to visit relatives. Mr. Dengle is now [illegible] general merchandise store at Patton and we are pleased to learn that he is prospering.

—At a meeting of the Board of Trade last Thursday afternoon it was decided to hold a banquet some time this month to celebrate the opening of the factory of the Helvetia Milk Condensing Company. A resolution was also adopted increasing the annual dues of members of the Board to $5.

—Frank Watkins was called to Auburn [illegible] by the announcement of the death of his eldest son, Willis P. Watkins, a former resident of Wellsboro. His death occurred on Thursday, following an operation for appendicitis. [illegible] resident of Auburn [illegible] six years. He is survived by his wife.

—Mrs. A. W. Campbell and her [illegible] Buffalo this week where the latter is receiving treatment at a hospital in that city for blood poisoning, with which she has been suffering for several weeks. The poisoning was contracted from a slight wound on her hand inflicted with a rusty [illegible] knife.

—Calvin D. Clark, of this borough, met with a serious accident last week Tuesday at Medix, near Dubois, where he has been employed in a saw mill. He was at work at an emery wheel when the wheel burst and the fragments struck him in the face, fracturing his jaw in two places and badly lacerating his face. He was able to return home the latter part of the week.

—Last Wednesday morning a party of four young men of this place, Messrs. James L. Snyder, Allen VanHorn, Robert Roy and Joseph Williams, left in Mr. Snyder's touring car for Jamestown, N. Y., where they will spend a week on the shores of Chautauqua lake. The trip was completed as far as Jamestown by [illegible] who returned on Friday by rail.

—Last Saturday afternoon at a meeting of the Republican County Committee held at the court house the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: County Chairman, Thomas M. Reese, of Charleston; [illegible] boro; Treasurer, Walter Urell, of Tioga. But little interest appeared to be taken in the meeting, only seventeen of the forty-seven districts being represented.

—After undergoing a second operation as the result of an auto accident about a year ago, Deputy Attorney General Fred W. Fleitz, formerly of Wellsboro, is slowly recovering at his home in Scranton. A dispatch says that though it is true that Mr. Fleitz will not resume his duties in Harrisburg for three months at the [illegible] reports in Harrisburg and [illegible] as to his [illegible]

—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trade last Wednesday evening [illegible] Superintendent of the Helvetia Milk Condensing Company, was elected Second Vice President to succeed Rev. F. W. Reynolds, who has gone to California. Mr. Latzer will prove a valuable addition to the Board of Trade, having had more or less experience along this line during his business career at Delta, Ohio.

—Last evening about [illegible] o'clock [illegible] Herman L. Yahn, was nearly entirely destroyed by fire just before it became the barn of Mr. Yahn on Nichols street. The electric alarm [illegible] of a line of hose the hay rigging was saved from being consumed. George Parks was the driver on the load. The fire is supposed to have originated from friction of [illegible] over one of the wheels.

—A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Home for the Aged [illegible] noon. No action was taken on the hot air "proposition to change [illegible] Wellsboro to that of one in [illegible] of the Directors and one of the most enthusiastic workers for the project, declared that there was no tangible proposition from Mansfield for the location of the home there.

—From present indications there will be a large attendance at the [illegible] eral Soldiers' Reunion on The Green, Saturday, Aug. 10th. Dr. J. M. Gentry, of Stony Fork, was one of that "incomparable Southern infantry," as General Grant called them, and belonged to the Stonewall Jackson brigade of Virginians, which really won the first battle of Bull Run and made for themselves a name equal to that of the Bucktails in the Union army. Dr. Gentry will attend the picnic on August [illegible] and will [illegible] Confederate war stories.

Sudden Death of Delmar Farmer.

[illegible] aged [illegible] farmer of Delmar, died very suddenly of heart disease at his home in that township last Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mr. Roland was apparently in his usual good health and was pleasantly chatting with his friend, P. C. VanHorn, of Charleston, when he was suddenly [illegible] and passed away without a [illegible]

The sudden death of Mr. Roland was a severe shock to his relatives and his many friends, who sincerely mourn his untimely death. He was a hard working and industrious farmer and was well liked by all.

Mr. Roland is survived by his widow and three sisters: Mrs. W. Q. Benjamin, of Wellsboro; Mrs. Peter Shumway, of [illegible] Funeral services were held at the home yesterday afternoon at one o'clock, Rev. William Heakes officiating.

—On Monday morning the Ross & Williams Bank at Mansfield became the First National Bank of Mansfield.

Wife Beater Rounded Up.

William Crumm, of [illegible] on Monday morning [illegible] Mr. Louis Crumm. He was arraigned before Justice Davis, charged with assault and battery [illegible] drunk he assaulted his wife. She got out of the house and ran away from him. He then kicked [illegible] machine and uprooted the garden.

Mrs. Crumm [illegible] home of her father-in-law, Reuben [illegible] near the county farm. She [illegible] there but a short time when [illegible] he struck his wife on the head and threw a stone at his father, striking him on the arm.

The wife and father then entered complaint before the justice and Sheriff Hatfield arrested Crumm and placed him in jail. At the hearing he was held for court in default of $400 bail.

Death of Aged Chatham Lady.

CHATHAM, VALLEY, July 31.—Mrs. Laura S. Curtis, aged 78 years, died last Thursday morning at her home [illegible] of dropsy of the heart. She was the widow of David Curtis. Her maiden name was Laura Spaulding, daughter of William and Mary Spaulding. She came to this township with her parents from Vermont when an infant and has lived here ever since, where her death occurred.

The deceased was a devout Christian and a member of the Methodist church of Keeneyville. She is survived by two sons, G. F. Curtis, of this place, and W. O. Curtis, of Gamer. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Milo [illegible] of Sodus, N. Y.

Funeral services were held at the house on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. C. Lewis, of Keeneyville, officiating. Interment in Keeneyville cemetery.

—Congressman William B. Wilson was summoned from Indianapolis to [illegible] on account of the sickness of his six-year-old daughter. Since the child has been convalescing Mr. Wilson has been making hay and assisting in the work on the farm, the place being a little farm two miles out of Blossburg.

—The Board of Trustees of the village of Bath, over in Steuben county, have awarded the contract for lighting the village streets to a company [illegible] at $62.50 per annum, a total cost each year of $4,607.50. An all day service for private use at a sliding scale with a minimum rate of twelve cents per kilowatt is also to be furnished. The service given by the old company has not been satisfactory.

If you are going to take bookkeeping and shorthand [illegible] you should will depend a great deal upon the school you attend. The Williamsport College is the largest and the best known school in Pennsylvania. Students from thirteen different schools came to us to finish courses last year. Over two hundred calls were received last year for office help. Sixty-five writing lessons [illegible] and trial lessons free. Students enter at any time. Fall term begins Sept. 3d. Send us the names of the young people of your place and we will send you a pack of calling cards. Write F. F. HEALEY, Prop'r.

—Ralph Leland Spear and Miss Agnes Marie Losey were married at the home of the [illegible] in East Charleston on Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Losey and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Spear. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Spear will return to Elmira where they will reside.

A Universal Need You Are No Exception

Everyone needs telephone service.

2,500,000 and over "Use the Bell."

There [illegible] thought they didn't need it.

Telephone District Manager from any pay station—free—for the [illegible]

USE THE BELL

LADIES,

ARE YOU ACQUAINTED WITH THE

STYLE-CRAFT BRAND OF TAILORED GOODS?

IT IS THE BEST ON THE MARKET AND OUR LEADER.

Robinson & March,

79 Main St. Second Floor.

[illegible] MEMBER CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE

100 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

Stocks bought and sold for cash, or carried on moderate margin. Would arrange with responsible party to act as correspondent. All business strictly confidential.

Tioga County Savings & Trust Co.

PAYS INTEREST ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

3½%

The treatment accorded people transacting business here is prompt, efficient and courteous. If you are now a depositor, you know—if not, then try us, or

ASK THE NEXT THREE MEN YOU MEET.

The First National Bank

OF WELLSBORO, PA.

Capital Stock, - - $125,000
Surplus and Profits, $125,000
Resources over, - $2,000,000

48 YEARS OF CONSERVATIVE STEADINESS

built up by [illegible] sound business methods, immense resources and [illegible]

No Account Too Small to have our most careful attention. None too large to be absolutely secure.

Liberal Interest Allowed which is COMPOUNDED in our Savings Department.

ALL DEPOSITS PAYABLE ON DEMAND.

IF YOU ARE NOT A CUSTOMER OF THIS BANK START IN AT ONCE.

WE WANT YOUR BUSINESS.

W. D. VANHORN, President. H. F. MANSFIELD, Vice President. E. W. GILLETT, Cashier.

The Gazette.

WELLSBORO, PA.

THURSDAY, AUG. 1, 1907.

[illegible] and Proprietor

Dr. Parkhurst remarks that he has [illegible] We'll grow wiser [illegible] old.

The world is going to break all records in bold [illegible] no yellow journalism in this production.

A California [illegible] any animal.

[illegible] to be "amazing." The [illegible] artist and a poet.

[illegible] J. [illegible] Stuyvesant Fish [illegible] even his daughter [illegible] $1,000,000 [illegible] a wedding present. She should not have to worry about [illegible]

"If you [illegible] come worry, [illegible] the [illegible] Dr. [illegible] Hunt. When [illegible]

"Savages" in silks and satins sometimes sit in church seats on the Sabbath," says the Rev. Dr. C. P. Good[illegible] But [illegible] to convert the [illegible]

[illegible] and left the girl to drown was thinking more of his [illegible] carcass than of the possibility of winning a Carnegie medal.

The Chicagoan who gave his wife half his property [illegible] treat him affectionately has learned that the way to win a woman is to give her what she wants.

An English noblewoman sneeringly declares that American girls don't [illegible] about horses. This may be true in a measure, but we may proudly reply that American girls know a lot about sparking plugs and carburetors.

Lady Arthur Grosvenor, sister-in-law of the duke of Westminster, the richest duke in [illegible] disguised as a gypsy. She intends to write a book about her experiences. From which it seems that the privilege of associating with a duke a lot of money does not prevent British high life from being dreadly dull.

If Mr. Wright, he of Dayton, inventor of an airship, is right, some of us may be able to fly before we can afford automobiles, remarks the Indianapolis Star. He says: "With a proper soaring machine, which can be made for less than $500, and with [illegible] a ship like a [illegible] father, provided the wind [illegible] He adds that after once [illegible] there is no [illegible] to [illegible]

The plan is to widen by 20 feet the narrowest [illegible] of the [illegible] Friedrichstrasse, second only to Unter [illegible] world's finest thoroughfares. This of [illegible] does not carry a vivid impression, but when it is added that the scheme involves an outlay of [illegible] 000 the scale of the projected improvement is indicated.

Among the surprising things which a mother discovered during a visit to New York was that of all the hotels in [illegible] only one in which children are not allowed is the one conducted exclusively for women. [illegible] also discovered [illegible] that children are not allowed in the room. Well, why should this not be [illegible] women run so far against nature as to [illegible] why should they [illegible]

[illegible] and supervision of innumerable hospitals and philanthropic institutions, her study of medicine, in which she [illegible] holds the diploma of [illegible] physician in order to enable her to understand more thoroughly the need and requirements of the sick, and her exemplary private life should have endeared her to the people of her adopted country. But the contrary [illegible] nothing but abuse and animosity.

[illegible] favorable impression which Jap[illegible] make upon people of other [illegible] is largely due to their courtesy, [illegible] and the taste they [illegible] in doing the most ordinary [illegible] Why the crews of the Jap[illegible] which lately visited [illegible]

COUNTY AFFAIRS.

Summary of Local Events and of the Past Week

—Hon. F. D. Councilman, of Harrisburg Valley, has purchased the hotel at the Stoverville springs.

[illegible] Smythe Park at [illegible] on August 22d.

—Ned S. [illegible] 18th.

—The School Board of [illegible] increased the school [illegible] months.

—Prof. James Nelson, a graduate of the Mansfield Normal, has been elected principal of the Covington graded school.

—Eugene Turner, of Leetonia, and Miss Esther Mattison, of Gaines, were [illegible] at the Eagle Hotel in Addison.

—A 8-year-old Coudersport boy [illegible] a trout, of the German species, [illegible] weighed three [illegible]

—J. C. Herberger, of Roulette, who has [illegible] the other morning [illegible] inches and weighed over [illegible] pound.

—An Athletic Association has been [illegible] Mansfield for the [illegible] encouraging and directing base ball in that place the remainder of the [illegible]

[illegible] dollars [illegible] up a few years longer [illegible] the doctors in the cities will be [illegible] in automobiles and their patients will be inmates of the poorhouse.

—The funeral of Curtis Leonard, [illegible] were taken to Daggetts on Monday for burial.

—Miss Mary Steele has [illegible] position [illegible] nurse in the Blossburg Hospital, where she has been [illegible] for the past [illegible] years, and has [illegible] her home at Shenandoah.

—John Fisher, aged 25 years, of [illegible] was fatally injured a few days ago by the limb of a tree striking him on the head and fracturing his skull while working in the woods on the Nine Mile.

—A few days ago while Donald Champaign and a companion were returning from a fishing trip to Marshlands their horse was badly frightened at the foot of Cedar Run mountain by a large black bear standing along[illegible] the road.

[illegible] Harrison House in Lawrenceville on Sunday, July 21st, Henry Stowell, [illegible] The [illegible] ties were L. G. Teneyck and Miss [illegible] Allis and Edward Teneyck [illegible] Creek.

—Judge Fanning has sustained the County Commissioners of Bradford county in their assessment of the property of the Central Pennsylvania Lumber Company. He decides the company [illegible] their taxes as [illegible] or be dealt with the same as other taxpayers.

—Mrs. Vina Rees, of Coudersport, has been appointed head of the nurses [illegible] mal School. Her salary is paid by the State. Mrs. Rees has had long and [illegible] best possible service.

—Lightning has struck the Disciple church at Covington twice this summer. We have yet to hear of an election [illegible] ed places in this county—rum selling [illegible] pig's ears or poker joints—that some of the hypocritical christians [illegible] much about.

—During a recent severe electrical storm lightning entered the depot at Covington on a telephone wire, then [illegible] across the room [illegible] moulding. The Sun says that [illegible] a barrel of beer bottles, repeating some verses he learned at Sunday school [illegible] twenty years ago.

—The twenty-fourth annual reunion of the soldiers and sailors of Tioga and Bradford counties will be held [illegible] on Wednesday and Thursday, August 21st and 22d. [illegible] and sailor who served the United States in any war, on land or [illegible] and speeches, a camp fire, with short talks, largely reminiscent.

[illegible] eral men who [illegible] A colored man was fishing in [illegible] and hooked a fish. While he was [illegible] to land it the weight increased [illegible] getting it to shore he saw that it was a 10-foot pike. On being [illegible] a 10-inch bass was found. After the [illegible] had been hooked and was [illegible] pulled in the pike swallowed the smaller fish, hook and all.

Eight Lives Lost on Cayuga Lake.

Auburn, N. Y., July 30.—Eight persons lost their lives and many [illegible] injured by the [illegible] Front [illegible] carrying fifty passengers and a crew of twelve, [illegible] to the west side of Lake Cayuga [illegible] children of [illegible] drowned [illegible]

MOYER A FREE MAN.

Released on $25,000 Bail.

Boise, July 31.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, [illegible] of the [illegible] $25,000 bail by Judge [illegible] at the Haywood trial.

[illegible] of the alleged [illegible] trial, and his case was [illegible] down for Tuesday, October 1. Counsel [illegible] to-day that they might [illegible] but it is not believed that the State's attorneys will consent. It has been asserted that the State has more incriminating evidence against [illegible] than any of the others, while it has been generally conceded that the case against Moyer is the weakest of the three. The [illegible] in the Haywood case admitted [illegible] explain as to his association with Harry Orchard and the sending of money to him, but they said [illegible] be time [illegible] when Pettibone himself was placed on trial.

The jurors continue publicly to discuss the part they played in arriving at a verdict. [illegible] ed one statement that I want to [illegible] ect. One of the jurors is quoted as saying that the jury had to [illegible] a long, disagreeable and tiresome night, in order to convince two jurors that the defendant was not guilty. [illegible] want to say that they never did convince us. I [illegible] guilty, and I still think he is [illegible] and I want the world to know it. I [illegible] acquiesced in the verdict of [illegible] I felt that I could do no [illegible] after I found the [illegible] other jurors [illegible] to recall, but I was convinced that it was right. Kindly make the correction for me."

"I was firmly convinced when we [illegible] lot would show a vote for conviction. I still retain the belief that Haywood was guilty, and only changed my vote because it struck me that if the evidence presented left eight men [illegible] of the guilt of the [illegible] it would be impossible to [illegible] ve men in another trial, [illegible] would be better to settle the [illegible] of acquiescing in their decision."

BIG FIRE AT CONEY ISLAND.

Eats Over 35 Acres of Wooden Structures; Checked at Stanch's.

New York, July 30.—There was a $1,500,000 fire and flame show at Coney Island Sunday morning between 4 and 7 o'clock. Beginning in the [illegible] Steeplechase Park, it swept some thirty-five acres clean of their gayly painted buildings.

It erased all but a [illegible] Steeplechase Park from Coney Island's map of joyful territory. It [illegible] two blocks of Surf Avenue, skirted along two blocks of the Bowery, ate up everything from [illegible] back to the ocean front for a couple of blocks, injured a dozen people, cost in addition to the immediate damage an estimate of $1,500,000 loss of business this season, threw Coney Island's [illegible] ed dozens of men, insurance at Coney Island being prohibitive in rates, and sent hundreds out to camp on the beach.

HAYWOOD ACQUITTED.

Jury Obeys Under Court's Instructions.

Boise, July 30.—Braced for he knew not what terrible shock, William D. Haywood heard the clerk of the court read the jury's verdict that [illegible] him free [illegible] charged with the murder of ex-Gov. Frank Steunenberg.

The verdict was stunning even to Haywood.

Of all the people in the court room when the jury came in it is doubtful that non one of them expected an acquittal. It is certain that neither Haywood nor his lawyers looked for it.

Most of the jurors say they could not [illegible] the Court's instructions.

JAPAN IS SAVING COAL.

Their Voyages.

Vancouver, B. C., July 30.—Advices [illegible] British naval officers who arrived from the Orient on the Empress [illegible] on route to [illegible] from the China station, the Japanese [illegible] are supplied with only sufficient amounts to complete the return voyage [illegible] the Canadian Pacific Railroad, which had several shiploads of coal ordered during the Canadian coal strike, received only one.

Robbed of $100,000.

Geneva, July 30.—An American of the name of Day, described as a wealthy Chicago [illegible] robbed of a pocket-book containing $100,000, chiefly in notes, while traveling on an express train from Munich to Lausanne.

Six Americans and Britons were robbed at various times on the same train last week.

Stone Knocks Prince's Jaw.

Paris, July 30.—While Prince Orloff was motoring between Fontainebleau and Paris a motorphobe threw a large stone at him, which fractured his jaw.

RATE WAR ENDED.

Cheap R. R. Fare.

Raleigh, N. C., July 31.—The war between the State and the United States Courts over the refusal of the [illegible] to obey the Southern Court to put in effect the rate of 2¼ cents a mile [illegible] on August 3, [illegible] United States Supreme Court determine the question of the constitutionality of the railroad law.

The agreement was the result of a conference between officers of the [illegible] and their advisers. The conference began at 3 P. M. and was of long duration.

Gov. Glenn gave this message to the press of the State:

"It is a great victory for States' rights against Federal interference. It will teach unfitness corporations [illegible]

Further, [illegible] never defied the Federal power as has been stated, but simply tried to [illegible] out the law as [illegible] the constitution."

A LIZARD 314 FEET LONG.

World's Biggest Fossil.

Baggs, Wyo., July 31.—The most [illegible] the skeleton of an animal of the lizard type, just found, which shows a length of 314 feet.

It is by far the largest prehistoric animal yet discovered. The skeleton, [illegible] by an expedition from the Wyoming State University, is in a perfect state of preservation. [illegible] skeleton is in the side of a [illegible] entirely from the stone in which it is imbedded, but the whole length [illegible]

One vertebra, which has been removed, weighs more than 1,000 pounds. The skeleton will be placed in the Wyoming State [illegible] which has the greatest collection of fossils in the world.

Big Suit Against Standard.

Tupelo, Miss., July 30.—George B. Mitchell, prosecuting attorney for the First Judicial District, filed suit for $1,440,000 in the Lee County Circuit Court against the Standard Oil Company, for alleged violation of the Mississippi anti-trust law.

If the plaintiff succeeds, the Standard Oil Company will not only be forced to pay the sum named, but will be obliged to change the company's organization or leave Mississippi. The petition alleges that the Standard Oil Company has violated the law by owning stock of the [illegible] Oil Company of Missouri and also stock of the Union Tank Line.

The suit is for $5,000 penalty for each day the company has done business in Mississippi since the anti-trust law went into effect.

[illegible]

Scores Burned in Early Morning Fire in Chrystie Street.

New York, July 30.—Fire just before midnight Monday killed [illegible] mostly children, in [illegible] on the east side of the residence district [illegible] and Gouverneur [illegible] surgeons on the ground.

HUGHES WINS APPORTIONMENT.

Wadsworth Yields and Long Deadlock is Broken.

Albany, July 30.—After a complete backdown by Speaker Wadsworth, the Republican members of the Assembly, in caucus agreed to [illegible] Fully reapportionment plan, [illegible] 61 to 11. [illegible] the dead-lock, which now has lasted about two months, [illegible] plans, will be passed [illegible] an emergency [illegible] and the final adjournment may come at once.

Escapes Timid Police To Do Another Shooting.

New York, July 31.—Frank Warner who used to keep a hat store in East Forty-second street, and who according to a despatch from Batavia tried to shoot his father and step-mother in 1877 [illegible] years [illegible] Esther C. Norling, a girl who had befriended him. After escaping from [illegible] after he did his shooting of the day he was knocked out by a truckman, who was arrested for it but later discharged with the thanks of the Court.

Uprisings in Cuba.

Havana, July 30.—An uprising by an armed band of twenty men is reported from Santiago Province. It is at Secaudero, not far from Santiago City. The men were discovered by Rural Guards in a coffee plantation. Shots were exchanged, but, as far as is known, nobody was hurt. The band is led by Salgero, a Porto Rican. Another band, under a man named Maceto, is also out. Three members of the band have been captured.

Life Imprisonment for Troops.

Bucharest, Roumania, July 30.—Fifty-eight Roumanian soldiers were condemned by a court-martial to hard labor for life for refusing to fire on peasants during the uprising last March. Three soldiers were sentenced to twenty years for killing an officer and other men were given shorter terms for refusing to obey orders.

The Model Dry Goods House

SPECIAL MILLINERY SALE

This week we [illegible] sale our entire line [illegible] some choice assortments in nearly all colors [illegible] the following prices. They are yours if you call [illegible] quick:

Lot No. 1—[illegible] were up to $1.00, sale price, $ .50
Lot No. 2—[illegible] were up to 1.75, sale price, .98
Lot No. 3—[illegible] were up to 3.00, sale price, 1.48
Lot No. 4—[illegible] were up to 5.00, sale price, 2.98
Lot No. 5—[illegible] were up to 7.00, sale price, 3.75

[illegible] where you can see them at a glance.

Star Clothing & Model Dry Goods House

FINKELSTEIN BROS.

BESIDES assisting older folks to enjoy foot comfort we take special pains [illegible] young folks.

As the twig is bent the tree will grow. As the foot is shaped in youth so it continues to grow during the years that follow [illegible]

"It is a fact to fit the feet," but we have [illegible]

Oxfords for summer wear.

SMITH & STONE

FINE FOOTWEAR.

The Gazette AND THE Thrice-a-Week World. ONLY $2.00

PER YEAR, CASH IN ADVANCE.

The news service of the WORLD covers the entire globe, and it reports everything fully, promptly and accurately. Remember, three times a week.

Subscribers must pay all arrearages for the GAZETTE at the rate of $1.50 per year before taking advantage of this offer.

OUR GREATEST SALE OF CLOTHING

[illegible] SERIES OF SUCCESSFUL SALES [illegible]

AN OFFERING THAT WILL APPEAL TO EVERY MAN IN TIOGA COUNTY

In every sense "our greatest [illegible] the greatest you have ever known." Let us emphasize, [illegible] is this season's goods. Every one is a [illegible] are MICHAELS STERN goods and there are none better made. The backward season, Bernkopf methods and the fall goods soon due make these prices possible and necessary. [illegible] Why use more space to tell about it when we have prices such as these to quote?

MEN'S SUITS

Were $23.00, sale price	$16.48
Were 15.00, sale price	11.49
[illegible]	[illegible]
Were 23.00, sale price	16.48
Were 16.00, sale price	12.49
Were 14.00, sale price	10.98
[illegible]	[illegible]
Were [illegible]	[illegible]
Were [illegible]	[illegible]
Were [illegible] price	14.49
Were 13.00, sale price	9.98
Were 12.00, sale price	9.48
Were [illegible]	[illegible]
Were 14.00, sale price	10.98

BOYS' SUITS

Were $11.00, sale price	$8.98
Were 10.00, sale price	8.23
[illegible]	7.19
Were 14.00, sale price	10.98
Were 12.00, sale price	9.48

CHILDREN'S SUITS

[illegible]	[illegible]
Were 3.75, sale price	2.98
Were 3.50, sale price	2.79
Were 5.00, sale price	4.39
[illegible]	3.78
Were [illegible] price	4.39
Were [illegible] price	4.98

DRESS GOODS SPECIALS

50-inch Black all-wool Broadhead Cheviot, was	$1.25, for .98
[illegible] Black all-wool Broadhead Cheviot, was	1.35, for $1.10
Black Broadhead all-wool Granite, was	.59, for .49
Black with White Check, was	1.00, for .79
58-inch Chautauqua Worsteds for Suits and Sacks, were	1.50, for 1.19
58-inch Chautauqua Worsteds for Suits and Sacks, were	1.75, for 1.50
58-inch Chautauqua Worsteds for Suits and Sacks, were	2.00, for 1.70
(all three in assorted greys and tans)
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	.59
[illegible]	[illegible]

Max Bernkopf & Bro

WELLSBORO, PA.

MOST OF US ARE A [illegible]

Those who are and those who are not will enjoy reading the "Chronicles of a Queer Girl" by Juliet Virginia Strauss in the August issue of

The Ladies' Home Journal

It would indeed be a queer girl who would not be interested in the "Ameri[illegible]" according to Harrison Fisher, which is a [illegible] of American beauties by that popular artist.

In general the Journal for August is a fiction number, the kind to read aloud on a shady [illegible]

But it [illegible] in the fact that we are agents for

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL

PATTERNS

You can buy the Journal at our counter for 15 cents per copy, or we will forward your subscription to the publishers at $1.50 per year.

LADIES' LONG GLOVES

[illegible] reduced from 75c to 53c.
Our ladies' long grey and white silk gloves, reduced from $1.50 to $1.25.
Our ladies' white and black silk gloves reduced from $1.00 to 83c.
Our ladies' white and black silk gloves reduced from $1.75 to $1.38.
Our ladies' black silk gloves reduced from $1.25 to $1.04.
Our ladies' white and black kid gloves reduced from $3.50 to $2.98.

MRS. CHASE'S CURE

By Mary L. Cumming

(Copyright [illegible])

"Are you in, Mrs. [illegible]"

A bright, motherly face peered it self inside the door, followed by a stable figure. Eleanor Chase rose from her rocking-chair, the worried almost fretful look, which of late had become her habitual expression and marred an otherwise pretty face, dispelled for the moment by a smile of welcome.

"Come right in, Mrs. Lincoln," she said cordially. "I am glad you came over."

The elderly woman seated herself. "Excuse my fancy work," she smiled, drawing a well-worn stocking from a bag of ample dimensions. "I could not have come unless I had brought it."

Her hostess sighed.

Mrs. Lincoln was holding her head on one side [illegible] a look of comical despair.

Eleanor Chase glanced at her.

"You take everything so cheerful," she said somewhat wistfully. "[illegible] I think you must have been intended for motherhood. I sometimes doubt whether I am."

[illegible] her stocking and looked fixedly at her companion—"every woman was intended for motherhood; make no mistake about that. People may advance all the new-fangled theories they like about higher [illegible] There is no [illegible] us."

The two women sewed for [illegible] time in silence. They had been near neighbors for ten years, ever since Mrs. Chase as a pretty bride [illegible] reached that stage of pleasant intimacy [illegible] necessary.

"I had a letter from my sister, Mrs. Van Dusen, this morning," Mrs. Chase remembered after awhile; she was fond of quoting her sister Mrs. Van Dusen, who had married a wealthy banker, many years her senior, and was now a widow, moving in the most exclusive circles of a conservative New England city—"she wants me to go and spend a week with her, but of course that is out of the question."

"Why, Mrs. Lincoln cried.

"Oh, I couldn't take the children, and what would they do without their 'Mummy Dee,' as Eleanor calls me."

Eveline was four, and the [illegible] of the family.

"Now, look here, Mrs. Chase," the neighbor laid down her work and spoke emphatically—"a vacation is just [illegible] tired, and matters seem all awry to you. A week with your sister will be an entire change and you will look at things with widely different eyes when you return. Mr. Chase can get his meals [illegible] Eveline right over to my house, see that Elsie and Alan have enough to eat and keep an eye on them out of school hours. I can run over here at bed-time, too, and see that they are all right."

"Oh, I couldn't think of allowing you to do all that!" Mrs Chase dropped her sewing also. A [illegible] came into her cheeks and her eyes shone.

"Don't you worry," the neighbor said [illegible] "a child or two more or less never yet [illegible] me."

[illegible] Eveline's "Mummy Dee" [illegible] in a smart [illegible] purchased for the occasion, her prettiest [illegible] to the railway station.

Once on the train her mind reached out toward the alluring prospect ahead. A week, a whole week of freedom from petty household cares, with no concern about meals [illegible] to sit down to an exquisitely appointed table and the privilege of mingling with her sister's cultured friends.

Mrs. Van Dusen met her at the depot. She was a tall, distinguished looking woman, whose whole appearance spoke of good taste and the power to indulge it. Eleanor leaned back against the luxurious cushions of the carriage, a sense of pleasurable excitement growing upon her, as they [illegible]

The round table was [illegible] There was no [illegible] grasp and upset the cream. Mrs. Van Dusen had no children. [illegible] gating every want.

Afterwards they retired to the own [illegible] of the house, but once ensconced there Eleanor did [illegible] the story of her life. The pains in life had fun in upon different directions they had developed along such widely different lines [illegible] only common ground upon which it seemed possible for them to meet was the time when they were girls together. This subject they dwelt upon, living old scenes over and over again, and Eleanor retired feeling that she had had a delightful evening. There was no trace by which she could have discovered that Mrs. Van Dusen found it somewhat of a strain.

The latter [illegible] ran down to breakfast [illegible] ing.

"I have been consulting my engagement book," she began, "and I find that this is a pretty full day, though—" with a deprecating movement of the hands—"I rarely have a day that is not."

Eleanor nodded brightly.

"Our class on economics meets at 11," her sister went on. "Then I have an appointment at my dressmaker's [illegible] at five. The [illegible]

[illegible] tea in the Renaissance suite of the Woman's club [illegible] house [illegible] I have [illegible] a few [illegible] dinner to-night, to meet you, my dear."

All this sounded very [illegible] it was what she had been hungering for, Eleanor told herself. But when at night she dragged her tired feet up to her room, the day, looking back upon it, seemed one unending whirl of [illegible] places and shifting scenes, of [illegible] from place to place, never staying in any one long enough to enjoy it.

Utterly weary, she flung herself into a deep chair and then—perhaps because she was so physically worn out—a terrible feeling seemed to grip her heart. She felt as though she must cry. A mad impulse to bundle things together and start [illegible] seized her. It was [illegible] Chase's first experience of [illegible] Sickness? Yes, that was the [illegible] She was ill with [illegible] Mrs. Lincoln putting Eveline to [illegible] bringing with it a swift pang of jealousy. Never before [illegible] any hand but her own undressed [illegible]

The [illegible] proved to be a [illegible] of what she had already been through, ending with a reception, [illegible] which she returned near midnight, too weary for any emotion, but the [illegible] to sleep. Morpheus was not to be wooed so lightly and sleep refused to come until [illegible] after the first ray of morning sunlight flickered into the darkened room. Then the sleep was a restless, unrefreshing one that left her face drawn and weary.

[illegible] mind was made up. [illegible] breakfast was [illegible] over, [illegible] courage [illegible] It would [illegible]

"I Couldn't Stand the Hard Work!" She Said with a Tremulous Laugh.

have been far easier to have addressed the the woman's club or the Progressive Thought league at home than to face her sister, but she finally closed her square cut jaw firmly and began:

"Lillian," the said hesitatingly, "I hope you will not misunderstand—you have been very kind to me—but—I'm afraid I must go home to-day."

Mrs. Van Dusen's finely arched eyebrows raised themselves interrogatively.

"You are not enjoying your visit?" she said, with polite regret.

[illegible] don't know whether I can make you understand—it was a mistake, my coming without the children. They are so much a part of me now while they are young. It—it is like trying to be happy with the [illegible] of my [illegible] can't you understand how you would feel if you had a baby—three of them who wanted you every minute of the day, and in whom you lived and moved and had your being? And [illegible] why we have been separated before since we were married, and things don't seem the same without me. But it is the children that I simply must see."

"Whatever brought you home so soon?" Mrs. Lincoln cried.

Eleanor threw back her head and dashed the tears from her eyes. [illegible] her eyes, and she looked [illegible] man.

"I couldn't stand the [illegible]" she said, with a tremulous laugh. "I simply could not endure it any longer, so here I am."

Mrs. Lincoln smiled happily, and marveled at what had been wrought in so short a time. The vacation cure had certainly worked like a charm in every way.

[illegible]

[illegible] other tadpole was sluggish. "Hurry up!" said the new frog. "Why, you are the slowest thing in all the meadows. Without legs you will never be noticed." "And that is just why I am not raising them [illegible] "It doesn't always pay to be noticed." And now the lazy tadpole [illegible] his vain quest was long since [illegible] served up on crisp toast.

A Consideration.

"A woman should not be valued alone for her beauty," said the sentimentalist. "Certainly not," answered [illegible] to be valued by the amount of all she can pay."

Humanity as Prophecy.

Every man is not so much a prophet [illegible] in the world, as he is [illegible] of what he should be. [illegible]

HORTICULTURE

KILLING MELON APHIS.

How to Be Done by Fumigating with Tobacco Smoke.

The melon aphis has done great injury to melon plants in various sections of the country, particularly [illegible]. In a bulletin of the Texas experiment station it is recommended to plant a few rows of rape at both ends or at the side of the melon field before planting the melons. Rape is a natural food plant for an aphis which has universal distribution. This insect is the host for the majority of insects which destroy other aphides. In this way ladybugs and other insects will [illegible] so numerous that [illegible] will [illegible] of [illegible] to aphis. The rape should be left [illegible]

Smoking Out the Bugs.

The aphis can be killed on the vines by fumigating with tobacco smoke. For vines two or three feet long, [illegible] to which attach eight [illegible] legs. Cover this with a good piece of muslin, cut two feet longer and two feet wider than the frame, so that it will cover the sides and lap on the ground. Earth may be placed on the lap to keep the smoke and gas [illegible]

After the cloth has been sewed and cut to the size desired, it should be saturated with linseed oil, then wrung out, slightly dried and [illegible] to the frame. For field work, [illegible] can attend to.

Place the [illegible] The [illegible] plant. [illegible] paper made for the purpose and put [illegible] in a tin can, which has [illegible] at the bottom edge, made by [illegible] nail through the side. [illegible] can in opposite [illegible] of the frame, but not on the vine; light according to directions. By this time many of the beneficial insects have escaped from under the cover.

With a trowel or other convenient small tool place a little dirt on the border of the cloth which lies on the [illegible] to prevent the escape of gas. The frame should remain in position long enough to suffocate all [illegible] under it, which is usually from three [illegible] minutes. On [illegible] enough frame to handle so that [illegible] one in succession may remain on a vine during the above time.

RENTED GARDEN A WINNER.

How the Town Resident May Be Able to Engage in Profitable Gardening.

For those who have not a suitable back yard it is frequently possible to rent a vacant lot close by, which may be very profitably tended and made to give an excellent supply of vegetables through the entire summer. A lot 50x60 feet was rented by one of our contributors for three dollars for the summer, says Orange Judd Farmer. Buildings shaded a portion of the ground, where cucumbers, squash and pumpkins were planted. The season was wet and late, but on March 17 first planting was made of one-half peck of early potatoes, beds of radishes, lettuce and onions. The re- [illegible] and as the ground was in a very dry location it was necessary to water it twice with a garden hose at an expense of $1.50 for water and rent of [illegible]

The [illegible] was [illegible] ground. As soon as vines began to grow, beans and cucumbers were [illegible] with lawn mowings, which insured clean products. On May 25 letters radishes and green onions were on the table from this garden, on June 15 potatoes and green peas.

The products of this little area were as follows: Six bushels potatoes, three bushels sweet potatoes, two bushels tomatoes, 34 cabbages, 20 dozen green corn, seven pounds lettuce, nine dozen radishes, three bushels turnips, five bushels beans, two gallons onions, seven pumpkins, three [illegible] six muskmelons, two [illegible] At market values these would [illegible] cost was five dollars [illegible]

POINTS ON FRUIT GROWING.

The Kiefer pear tree is not frequently fertile to its own pollen. Other varieties should be planted near it.

[illegible]

Set the plants in rows at least two [illegible] rows. Give clean culture [illegible]

[illegible] seed to plant next year. Wash well in several waters to remove the pulp. [illegible] seed on a paper and [illegible] in the sun.

The oyster shell bark louse may kill [illegible] We lost two dwarf pears last winter from being weakened by this scale. Spray [illegible] whale oil soap or kerosene [illegible]

When pruning currant bushes, cull out all the weak and insect eaten wood. Just keep enough vigorous canes to give good form to the bush [illegible] the old wood for the fruit is borne on wood over two years old.

Late planted squashes often escape the black squash bugs. This [illegible] rotation, are the two secrets of success. Try planting some Hubbard seeds the middle of June, choosing a spot where no [illegible] has [illegible] If a few [illegible] of the [illegible] of the [illegible]

THINNING FRUITS.

[illegible] Associated by European Fruit Growers.

[illegible] Sandsten, while associate horticulturist at the [illegible] station, [illegible] practice of thinning fruit has long been known to the fruit growers of Europe, and one hears in [illegible] with them are almost [illegible] In America, where the desire is to produce [illegible] quantity [illegible] quality [illegible] practice is generally [illegible] with disfavor. Of late years however, the practice has been taken up by most of our successful fruit growers, and the concensus of opinions is that thinning pays well.

The most successful grower nowadays is not the one that raises the largest quantity of peaches or apples, nor the one that produces the [illegible] and highest quality of fruit. Superior [illegible] cannot be obtained from a tree that is over-loaded with fruit. The [illegible] of a tree is limited, and that capacity cannot be exceeded, no matter how many fruits may be set. If many fruits are set and are allowed to [illegible] the energies of the tree are spread out over the large number, and few, if any, will reach the limit of their possible growth. If, on the other hand, one-half or two-thirds of the fruits are removed, the remaining ones will have an opportunity to [illegible] normal size. [illegible] the vitality of the tree [illegible] it is not the size of the fruit that [illegible] the [illegible] but the number of seeds that are allowed to mature. By [illegible] make it possible for the tree to produce a larger and finer fruit, but we also preserve the vigor and longevity of the tree.

Judicious thinning makes it possible in many cases to produce a crop of fruit every year and still keep the tree in a good state of health. Thinning tends to produce better colored fruit; as it permits the sun to reach many places that otherwise would not be reached. It also permits a freer circulation of the air. [illegible] the heavy losses occasioned by [illegible] fruit. The fruit will be further apart, and there will [illegible] no chance for the fruits to [illegible] each other. Thinning prevents the breaking down of the trees and tends to keep the shape of the trees in orchards more uniform.

SAVE THE OLD TREES.

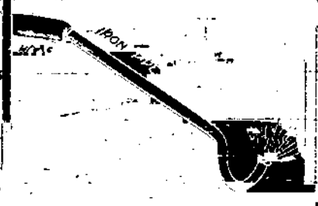
Efforts Which Are Being Put Forth in Pennsylvania to Preserve Handsome Patriarchs.

One of the [illegible] engaged the attention of Pennsylvania horticulturists and landscape gardeners is found in the modern doctoring of beautiful old trees, which [illegible] well-known country seats along the main line. Handsome patriarchs of the original forest now stand stately and secure upon many lawns preserved by wise though curious treatment [illegible] ficed had not stringent measures been resorted to. The amputation of dead or diseased limbs is no longer left for the wound to invite further decay [illegible] the action of the elements. Decayed cavities in handsome old trees [illegible] are as systematically cleaned and filled as are the cavities that receive attention under the care of a modern dentist. Where the upper [illegible] of wide-spreading branches [illegible] the bark worn and decaying all along the limb with little hollows here and there that hold the dampness of dew and rain, actual tin roofs are now applied along the entire upper surface of the big limbs.

THE MELON LOUSE.

Style of Spray Which Will Reach Him Under the Foliage.

The melon louse or aphis often [illegible] melons, muskmelons, etc., and is a difficult pest to combat because of its habit of living on the under side of the leaves. [illegible] one of our [illegible] folks, sends in the accompanying sketch of a device he has made and which he successfully uses for spraying the under side of vines, etc. Of course the hose shown is attached to the spray pump, and a [illegible] bottle [illegible] the spray end. Kerosene emulsion, or a tobacco solution, recommended in Farm Journal, is an excellent spray to use for these foes.



Function of Phosphorus.

Phosphorus, in the form of phosphates, is found in all parts of the [illegible] parts of the stem and leaves [illegible] duction and transportation of the protein. It also seems to aid the assimilation of the other plant food elements. An insufficient supply of phosphoric acid always results in a [illegible] in a poor yield of shrunken [illegible] forces leaf and stem [illegible] and phosphoric acid [illegible]

Sunshine and Growth of Plants.

Many people have the idea that plants grow most in moist weather. This is contrary to the fact. The more sunshine there is, the more is the plant supplied with plant food in solution in the water drawn in at the roots. The faster the evaporation, the faster the plant is built up. The sunshine does a great work in hastening the work of plant-building. A high temperature has the [illegible] effect as sunshine, for it pulls the [illegible] of the [illegible] of the [illegible]

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

[illegible] these Little Pills.

They also relieve Dis- [illegible]

[illegible] Pill [illegible]

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REHEARSAL IN A CAR.

Professional [illegible] Was Almost Too Successful.

"The other night, coming home in a car," said the professional entertainer, "I began to wonder if I could bring tears to my own eyes as I do to the eyes of the other people. I thought of all the wrongs I had committed, and felt sorry for people I had wronged. I thought of all the mistakes I had made that other people had profited by and pretty soon the tears began to gather in my eyes and roll down my cheeks.

"I forgot there were other people [illegible] woman got up from across the car and came to me.

"'I see, sir,' said she, 'that you are some trouble. Can I do anything to [illegible]

"'Lord bless you, no, madam,' I told her, hastily wiping away my tears. 'I am a professional entertainer and was practicing on myself. That's all.'"

WHERE DOCTORS FAILED.

A. [illegible] Salem, the Capital of Oregon.

F. A. Sutton, R. F. D. No. 4, Salem, Oregon, says: "Acute attacks of kidney disease and [illegible] off and on for [illegible] the kidneys and coursed down through my limbs. I sought the best medical treatment but in vain, and when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills [illegible] walking with two canes and suffering continual pains, headaches and sleepless nights. I improved quickly and after taking three boxes felt better [illegible] 15 years. The effects have been lasting."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

WHY SHE WAS THANKFUL.

Little One Had Reason to Approve Father's Choice.

Of the sisters of a well-known New York family one is married. She has one little girl greatly petted by all the aunts and subject to much [illegible] from all of them. Of this last the little lady sometimes wearies, which weariness on a certain occasion made itself shown in the following reply from her small ladyship:

Said one aunt: "If you were my child I should have you do thus and thus." Said another aunt: "Were you my child I would do so and so." The remaining aunt made a similar remark.

The little lady thought it high [illegible] to express her own feelings. "But I have," she said, "always been so thankful that papa married the sister he did!"

ALMOST A BURIED CORPSE.

Skin Disease from Birth—Fortune Spent on Her Without Benefit—Cured Her with Cuticura.

"I have a cousin in Rockingham Co. who once had a skin disease from birth until she was six years of age. [illegible] on her to get her cured and none of the treatments did her any good. Old Dr. [illegible] suggested that he try the Cuticura Remedies which he did. When he commenced to use it the child was [illegible] a solid scab. He had used it about two months and the child was well. I could hardly believe she was the same child. Her skin was as soft as a baby's [illegible] have not seen her in seventeen years, but I [illegible] heard from her and the last time I [illegible] Burlington, N. C., June 16, 1905."

[illegible] they are awfully lied about.

Point of View.

It was the desire of a teacher in [illegible] of the youths the benefits derived at Tuskegee and other seats of learning for the ambitious negro. One day, in closing a brilliant discourse on [illegible] ington was set forth as a [illegible] he said to one little boy who had [illegible] dently heard not a word of her talk:

"Now 'Rastus, give the name of the greatest negro?"

[illegible] coming—"Joe Gans!"

The Terrible Mafia.

Neither the Naples Camorra, [illegible] Paris Apaches, nor the Black Hand of America is the most powerful and terrible secret society in the whole world, in spite of the harrowing details of their ghastly work. The palm [illegible] go to the Mafia, which flourishes in Italy, and has done so for more than 300 years. This society, which works so swiftly and silently, yet so [illegible] was founded in Sicily for protection against the injustice of foreign rulers.—London "P. T. O."

Were He a Bird.

With an ugly sneer he tossed aside the bread which she had made with her own hands.

"If I were only an ostrich—" he began.

But the young woman cut him short.

"Yes, if you only were," she [illegible] "[illegible] a few decent feathers for that old hat I've worn since my wedding day."

It Cures While You Walk.

[illegible] hot, [illegible] callous, and swollen, aching [illegible] all Druggists. Price 25c. Don't [illegible] substitute. Trial package FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

M. C. Russi, of Andermath, who has just celebrated his one hundred and [illegible] world. Last summer he [illegible] Gulch [illegible]

FITS, St. Vitus Dance and all Nervous Diseases permanently cured by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve [illegible]

[illegible] Wife [illegible] You [illegible] It's all [illegible] you're just in time to walk the baby for an hour or two.—Puck.

Does Your Head Ache?

If so, get a box of Kraus's [illegible] Capsules of your Druggist. [illegible] Norman Lichty Mfg. Co., D[illegible]nes, Ia.

Theatrically speaking [illegible] death scene is usually [illegible] than her hair dyeing.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

How [illegible] the toll of [illegible]

Wanted an Excuse.

"What do you [illegible]

"Whisky."

"Wife object?"

[illegible] be sick?"

[illegible]

"What's the easiest way to start a cold."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES

FOR RHEUMATISM BRIGHT'S DISEASE DIABETES BACKACHE

SAWYER'S EXCELSIOR BRAND Oiled Clothing and Slickers

[illegible] Don't buy a garment without Sawyer's Excelsior Brand.

SAWYER'S

H. M. SAWYER & SON,

HICKS' CAPUDINE

[illegible] Indigestion

Trial bottle 10c At druggists

A Positive CURE FOR CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM is quickly absorbed. Gives Relief at Once. 50c. Ely Bros., 56 Warren St., N. Y.

DEFIANCE STARCH—16-ounces to the package—other starches only 12 ounces—same price and "DEFIANCE" IS SUPERIOR QUALITY.

A. N. K.—C (1907—28) 2186.

(900 DROPS) CASTORIA

ALCOHOL 3 [illegible]

INFANTS CHILDREN [illegible]

Recipe of Old Dr. CHARLES FLETCHER

Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of [illegible]

NEW YORK.

At 6 months old 35 DOSES—35 CENTS

Exact copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of [illegible]

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

TIRED AND SICK YET MUST WORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work [illegible] make life a burden.

It is to these women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, comes as a blessing. When the spirits are depressed, the back aches to go [illegible] are soon followed by the most [illegible] Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MRS. AUG. LYON

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

[illegible] and to carry women safely through the change of life. [illegible] Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound [illegible] I feel [illegible] good medicine so highly."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women [illegible]

DAISY FLY KILLER

For getting rid of and destroying flies. It makes everything clean and free from annoyance. One [illegible] lasts all season. Any dealer will supply you, or 5 sent prepaid for 25 cents.

5-5-7 SELF SHINING BLACK LUSTA DETROIT MICH. 25 50

[illegible] anything advertised in this column should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing all substitutes or imitations.